2001 Husker Football Game Program

Director of Athletics Bill Byrne

On behalf of the Nebraska Athletic Department, and all the wonderful fans in the State of Nebraska, welcome to Memorial Stadium for today's game.

Marilyn and I continue to be impressed by our wonderful Husker fans. It is this unbelievable "Big Red" support that enables Nebraska to continue its NCAA-record sellout streak, which will extend to 247 at the end of this season.

The Athletic Department is proud of the sincere sportsmanship extended by our fans. One of the noted traditions that sets Nebraska apart from most institutions is the warm and courteous welcome visiting teams and their fans receive. Tough competition and outstanding sportsmanship are vital components of intercollegiate athletics and our goals at the University of Nebraska.

On behalf of all Nebraskans, I would like to welcome visiting teams, fans, their coaches and student-athletes who will meet the Huskers on the field today. We hope that you enjoy your visit and the competition.

NU Opens 2001 Campaign With Pigskin Classic

Getting Started Early

The Nebraska football team is set to open the 2001 season today at Memorial Stadium against TCU in the Pigskin Classic. The game will be Nebraska's fifth preseason contest all-time. The Huskers own a 4-0 record in those games, including three victories in the NACDA Kickoff Classic. The game will also be TCU's first in the Pigskin Classic.

Nebraska's last preseason game came in 1998 when the Huskers defeated Louisiana Tech, 56-27, in Lincoln in the Eddie Robinson Classic. Head Coach Frank Solich made his Husker head coaching debut in that contest, following Tom Osborne's retirement after winning three national titles in the previous four seasons.

When the two teams meet today, Nebraska will look to extend some of the most impressive streaks in the nation. Among those are:

- ▶ 39 consecutive winning seasons
- ▶ 32 consecutive nine-win seasons
- ▶ 32 consecutive bowl bids
- ▶ 325 consecutive weeks ranked by the AP
- ▶ 239 consecutive sellouts at Memorial Stadium

Along with those, Nebraska brings in a 13-game home winning streak. The game will also be Nebraska's earliest start ever, coming earlier than the Aug. 27 season opener in 1988.

Ranked Huskers

Nebraska begins the 2001 campaign in a familiar place, as NU is ranked in the top five nationally to start the season for the seventh time in the past eight years. The only time since 1994 that Nebraska was not in the preseason top five was prior to the national championship season of 1997, when Nebraska was ranked sixth to start the season.

Overall, Nebraska has been ranked before opening its season every year since 1970, a string which reached 32 years with a No. 4 ranking by the USA Today/ESPN Coaches' poll and No. 4 ranking by the Associated Press.

Last year, TCU finished the season with a 10-2 record and ranked No. 18 by the coaches' poll and 21st by the AP.

Coaching Commitment

Nebraska has always had a strong tradition of outstanding teams, teams that have been well-prepared prior to a game and well-coached during a contest. Much of that success can be traced to the program's continuity in the coaching staff.

Overall, the Nebraska coaching staff has 132 combined years of coaching experience at Nebraska, with the staff also having coached in 132 bowl games during the past three decades. The Huskers have three coaches with at least 20 years of experience in Lincoln, including Head Coach Frank Solich (22 years), secondary coach George Darlington (28 years) and offensive line coach Milt Tenopir (27 years).

Two other members of staff have at least 10 years of experience at NU in offensive line/kickers coach Dan Young (18 years) and receivers coach Ron Brown (14 years). Quarterbacks coach Turner Gill has been at NU for nine seasons, while linebackers coach Craig Bohl has six years experience, rush ends coach Nelson Barnes four years, running backs coach Dave Gillespie three years and defensive line coach Jeff Jamrog one year.

Crouch Making Noise

Senior quarterback Eric Crouch has proven his worth over the past three years and could possibly reap the rewards this season. Among the awards he will likely contend for this season are the prestigious Heisman Trophy, given to the nation's outstanding player, and the Johnny Unitas Golden Arm Award, given to the top senior quarterback in the country.

And there is good reason for Crouch to be among the players on those elite lists. He enters the season as Nebraska's career leader in rushing yards (2,319) and rushing attempts (445) by a quarterback and has the most career rushing touchdowns (41) by a Husker quarterback. The Omaha, Neb., native also set an NU single-season record for rushing touchdowns by a quarterback (20) last season, while also tying school records for touchdown passes thrown in a single game (5 vs. Iowa) and rushing touchdowns by a quarterback in a single game (4 vs. Kansas).

Overall, Crouch ranks 13th on the Nebraska career rushing list and needs just 187 yards of total offense to take over as NU's career leader, which is currently Tommie Frazier with 5,476 yards. He is also sixth on the Huskers' career passing charts with 2,971 yards, just 551 yards from third place.

Wistrom Moves Up The List

Making a name for himself in the past two years, senior Tracey Wistrom has emerged as one of the top tight ends in the nation and one of the Huskers' main threats on offense. With good size (6-5, 240) and soft hands, Wistrom will play a large role in the Huskers' chances at reaching Pasadena and the Rose Bowl (national championship game) this season.

If history lends any credit, teams across the country will be hard pressed to find a better tight end. His perimeter blocking helps one of the top rushing offenses in the nation – including the No. 1 rushing offense last season – and his pass catching skills are just starting to be appreciated. For that, Wistrom is a 2001 Mackey Award candidate as the nation's top tight end and a preseason All-American.

Wistrom enters the year third on the Nebraska career chart for receiving yards by a tight end with 827. He needs just 219 receiving yards this season to take over the top spot held by Junior Miller (1,045 yards, 1977-79). Wistrom enters the season as the top receiver in Nebraska history in terms of yards per reception, as his average of 22.4 yards per catch is nearly one yard better than the current record (Robb Schnitzler, 21.6 ypc, 1998-2000).

Running To Success

The Nebraska ground attack has high expectations every season, as it is normally in contention for the NCAA rushing title. The Huskers have won the rushing title on 14 occasions, including last season when NU churned out 349.3 yards per game on the ground. NU has won the rushing title six times in the past nine years, and has more rushing titles than any school in the country.

This year, the expectations will be no less, but the personnel will be a bit different. Gone are departed seniors Dan Alexander and Correll Buckhalter, each of whom garnered over 2,000 rushing yards in their careers and combined for 47 rushing touchdowns.

This year, quarterback Eric Crouch is the leading returning rusher with 971 yards last year and 2,319 career yards. Along with him, I-backs Dahrran Diedrick and DeAntae Grixby and fullbacks Judd Davies and Steve Kreiwald will carry the bulk of the ground work, with the always productive Husker offensive line paving the way.

About The Horned Frogs

The TCU Horned Frogs will look to get back in the national polls this season after spending the entire 2000 campaign among the nation's top 25. TCU was ranked as high as No. 9 during the season, before finishing No. 18 in the coaches' poll and No. 21 in the AP poll. TCU received votes in the USA Today/ESPN Coaches' preseason poll in early August, but was not among the top 25.

The Horned Frogs will also be looking for their fourth straight winning season in 2001, which is a far cry from the 1-10 team TCU produced just four years ago. TCU will look to do so in a new conference this year, as the Horned Frogs join Conference USA as a full member in all sports starting with the 2001 fall semester.

Also new is the Horned Frogs' head coach, Gary Patterson, who took over prior to last year's Mobile Alabama Bowl game after serving as an assistant coach the previous three years.

This year's team returns 29 lettermen and 10 starters, including five on the defense. Those defensive players all have good experience, as TCU led the nation in total defense last season, allowing just 245 yards per game. Linebacker Chad Bayer returns to lead the Frogs after posting a team-high 107 tackles in 2000.

On offense, TCU returns junior quarterback Casey Printers, a two-year starter who is also the team's leading returning rusher (265 yards). Printers can also put the ball in the air, as he tossed 16 touchdown passes last year. Missing this year will be running back LaDainian Tomlinson, who won the Doak Walker Award as the nation's top running back and was fourth in the Heisman race before being taken as the fifth overall pick in the 2001 NFL Draft.

On The Cover

Head Coach Frank Solich and his staff will lead the Huskers in their quest for their sixth national title.

From the Desk of Harvey Perlman

The University of Nebraska-Lincoln is all about creating successes among its students, faculty and staff. By enabling our students to reach their full potential, by enabling our faculty to teach and conduct research at the highest levels, and by enabling our staff to do their jobs with efficiency and skill, the university contributes its full measure to the state.

Success can be assessed by many means. For students, success might be measured by grade point averages or, more effectively, by successful outcomes. While some might see this as "job after graduation," it's also important to look at student successes in terms of opportunities seized and challenges that have been overcome.

By providing these opportunities and challenges, the university helps students reach new levels of achievement.

One such opportunity can be seen in the newly completed Esther L. Kauffman Academic Residential Center, home to the J.D. Edwards Honors Program in Computer Science and Management. This $14.7 million building was dedicated in April 2001. Funded by a donation by alumni Ed and Carole McVane, it represents the cutting edge of teaching at the university and its programs already have attracted the highest caliber students to Nebraska. The building is open this fall, ready to house a complement of students who will live and learn in a facility specifically designed to enhance the collegiate experience. The academic program, up and running for two years, is entering its first year with the residential aspect in place. All students will live in the residence hall that's filled with the latest technology.

The J.D. Edwards curriculum is intensely collaborative and student-centered. The program's goal is to seamlessly weave solid business education with practical computer science. A huge component of the program is practical, hands-on experience with students working on actual projects developing software and applications for real companies and organizations. For instance, last year, students helped develop an on-line clearinghouse website for families and caregivers of individuals with special medical or mental health needs. Commissioned by the UNL Center for Children, Families and the Law, the software lets doctors, teachers and parents share secure information such as schedules, progress reports and team member profiles. It even allows them to schedule meetings on line. Its users, who value the way it has enhanced communications among caregivers, have praised the software.

Other student projects include developing networking software for an Italian company, developing medical records software for a Lincoln company and creating a data exchange software product for the Association of American Universities Data Exchange. An individual has been hired whose job is to link companies who need software with students who will create it.

That real-world experience means success for students, who not only learn how to write the software, but also learn the presentation skills, time management skills and other practical skills they will need when they graduate. The first master's candidates, who earned their degrees last spring, were offered jobs with IBM, EMC Corp. and Raytheon. Their specialized skills were in high demand, even in a softening economy.

J.D. Edwards has helped UNL attract some highly gifted students. For example, Jesse Whidden, who graduated from St. Edward High School, was one of two Nebraskans to score a perfect 36 on the ACT. He chose the J.D. Edwards program over Harvard, Yale and MIT because the promise of the new program was irresistible. A sophomore this fall, Whidden is looking forward to the residential aspect of the program, where he'll live in close harmony with 70 other undergraduates.

Whidden's perfect college aptitude test score was just part of the reason why he was highly recruited. As a high school student, Whidden helped develop a website for his hometown. He was active in 4-H, Boy Scouts and a number of extra-curricular activities. He is typical of the type of student who is attracted to the program, which has proven to be highly competitive. Of about 250 applicants for this year's class, 36 were selected.

Faculty in the program are enjoying the challenge of teaching highly motivated students. David Rosenbaum, professor of economics, has coordinated a team of faculty from the colleges of business administration, arts and sciences, and engineering and technology who have developed the curriculum. The work has energized his teaching, he says, allowing him to make what he feels is a new commitment to undergraduate teaching.

The J.D. Edwards program is but one area on campus where success stories are being written every day. I invite you to learn more about this program by looking at their website, <<http://jdedwards.unl.edu/>>.

Swiney Hopes to End Husker Career on an 'Up'

By Josh Maxson

Erwin Swiney wrapped up his freshman campaign at Nebraska with a national championship.

Since that time, things have been up and down for the lightening-fast senior cornerback from Lincoln.

Erwin Swiney

"The national championship is my final goal," said Swiney. "When I came here in 1997, my freshman year, we won a national championship, and I would like to leave Nebraska with another national title."

Swiney was a solid contributor on Nebraska's fifth national championship team. He played in all of the Huskers' games in 1997, while starting nine. He became only the second true freshman to start in the NU secondary when he took over the starting job from Jerome Peterson in game four.

He recorded 24 tackles that year and hauled in two interceptions.

"His freshman year he played and was a factor in us winning the national championship," said defensive backs coach George Darlington. "When he came in, he was thrust into a very tough situation, and he handled it well."

Since then, things have been a little rough for Swiney. After the high of the 1997 national title, Swiney's luck has gone downhill, as he has battled injuries since his sophomore year.

Swiney struggled with injuries during his sophomore season and completely missed the 1999 campaign because of abdominal surgery late in the summer. Returning from that personal setback helped Swiney learn the importance of hard work and staying healthy, Darlington said.

"I think the injury his second year was really a factor," Darlington said of Swiney's motivation to keep improving while staying healthy. "He played hurt, and he was the best we had. Those injuries affected his performance. He was then operated on, and missed his third year. He had a good season last year, but we are looking forward to even more from him this season."

"We expect him to play a big role this season. We really expect him, with the way he has worked this summer on his skills and technique, to have a fine year."

Swiney has made a mark during his four years on Nebraska's Blackshirt defense. At the start of today's game, he is third on the NU career pass breakups list with 27, one behind teammate Keyuo Craver. The all-time leader is Ralph Brown, who played alongside Swiney in 1997 and 1998, with 50.

Swiney also ranks fourth in the Nebraska record books with 13 pass breakups during the 1998 season, while his 10 in 2000 ranks ninth.

Putting the individual records aside, Swiney looks toward team goals for the 2001 season.

"Our main goal is to win a national championship," said Swiney. "To do that we have to stay focused, and make sure that we go out ready to play each game. We just have to go out there and play the game to the best of our ability. We have to make sure we know our assignments and make the plays that win games."

The Huskers enter today's game ranked No. 4 in the preseason USA Today/Coaches poll. If Nebraska is to return to the top of the college football world, the Blackshirt defense will need to live up to its reputation.

"I think we have a lot of talent in our defensive core," Swiney said. "As a group, we really need to focus and keep our intensity level high. We are a talented group, and if we come out and play hard, we should be capable of doing a lot of things."

Swiney will patrol the right cornerback spot, along with DeJuan Groce, for the Huskers. From that position a year ago, he accounted for 19 tackles and one interception. But while his stats were not tremendous, his

Noting Swiney:

A three-year letterwinner, Swiney is one of two true freshman to start in the Husker secondary since 1996. He played in all 11 games for NU a year ago, starting 10 contests. His 27 career pass breakups rank third on the Huskers' all-time chart. His 13 pass breakups in 1998 ranks fourth all-time for the Huskers in single-season history. Swiney has started 31-of-35 games during his career at Nebraska. The Huskers' fifth-leading tackler in 1998, Swiney missed the 1999 campaign after abdominal surgery performed late in the summer.

responsibilities on one of the nation's top secondaries were. Rising to the occasion, Swiney helped the Blackshirts rank seventh nationally in pass efficiency defense and 26th overall in total defense.

Swiney's top tackle numbers came during his sophomore campaign in 1998, where he was the Huskers' fifth-leading tackler with 61 tackles, including 32 unassisted. He started every game that season and added four tackles for loss and one fumble recovery. He turned in his top single-game tackle performance against Oklahoma State in Kansas City with 14 stops, including five solo and one sack. He also broke up a career-high three passes against Texas A&M that year.

Swiney and many of his Husker teammates have spent the summer in Lincoln participating in an offseason conditioning program.

"It went pretty well," Swiney said referring to summer conditioning. "We had a lot of the guys show up this summer and really work hard."

"The summertime is becoming very important, a lot of guys have come in and worked hard this summer and it really showed in camp. Those summer workouts really help to get us into condition. We get used to that summer heat, so by the time two-a-days got here we were pretty used to it."

Coach Darlington is looking forward to Swiney's senior season as much as Swiney is. He feels he has put in the time and effort, and that good things lie ahead.

"He's done a good job," said Darlington. "and it is really evident that he has had a great summer. We have seen significant improvement during the fall practices."

However, Swiney knows that there is always someone right on his heels, looking to take his place.

"I am always trying to improve my all-around game," Swiney said. "There is always room for improvement. I have to go out there and continue to step it up a notch from year to year."

"The competition on the practice field really motivates me. That competition pushes me and it pushes a lot of other people as well. There is always a guy that can step it up and take my position, and the thought of that really motivates me."

Now in his fifth year, Swiney is looking to take a leadership role for the 2001 version of the Huskers.

"I feel like I have to take a leadership role," Swiney said. "For a guy who has been playing here since the 1997 national championship season, I'm a guy that has to step up and be a leader."

"Being at Nebraska is such a big deal. If I just go out and play to the best of my ability, and make sure I show a high intensity level in both practice and games, I think a lot of the younger guys will look at that and build off that."

Swiney shows his leadership off the field as well. He is on course to graduate with his degree in sociology this August.

His four years at the University of Nebraska have provided many changes for Swiney.

"I feel like I have really matured talent-wise on the field over the past four years," Swiney said. "I'm more educated on what I need to do on the field, and I just feel a lot more comfortable in the system."

"I have had such a great experience here at Nebraska. I can't complain. Nebraska is one of the best schools in the nation, so I can't help but be happy here."

Swiney has been a part of four bowl teams during his time as a Husker, none more celebrated than the 42-17 win over Tennessee in the 1998 Orange Bowl. In that game, Swiney recorded five solo tackles and one pass breakup.

Swiney grew up in Dallas, Texas, and had not played football since he was in eighth grade before moving to Lincoln. In his first year at Northeast, he turned in an outstanding year with 500 receiving yards and seven touchdowns. He also posted 62 tackles and intercepted three passes.

Following his senior season he earned all-state honors and was named to SuperPrep's All-America "Skill Athlete" Team.

Since Swiney's arrival in Lincoln, Husker football has become something special to him. And, the fans have found a place in his heart.

"I grew up in Dallas, Texas," Swiney said, "but my high school and college football home is here in Lincoln. Nebraska fans are just tremendous, the atmosphere they create is just amazing. We have, I think anyway, the greatest fan base anywhere."

"When you step out on that field and there is just a sea of red, it just gets your adrenaline flowing and gets you ready to play."

Swiney knows the advantages game day in Lincoln brings when the Memorial Stadium crowd gets behind the Huskers.

"Memorial Stadium is such a special place. When you line up in front of the wide receiver, you can just see the intimidation in his eyes. We have so much tradition here at Nebraska, and the other team knows it."

As Swiney's fifth-year at Nebraska kicks off before the home crowd today, one goal remains — another national championship.

Senior Erwin Swiney, who is one of only two true freshmen to play in the secondary since 1996, is looking to end his collegiate career on a high note this fall.

Bill Byrne

Director of Athletics

Ninth Year

When Director of Athletics Bill Byrne came to the University of Nebraska in 1992, his vision was extensive: balance the budget, provide a stable financial base to build successful programs into the next millennium, provide complete and integrated services for Husker student-athletes, improve NU's aging facilities for the benefit of student-athletes and fans and make Nebraska the best athletic program in the nation. In his nine years with the Huskers, he has pursued that vision with passion.

Nebraska resides among the nation's best in all sports. The Huskers have ranked among the top 15 in the Sears Directors' Cup in each of the last six years with a school-best fourth-place showing in 1996-97.

Improving facilities to pave the way to success has been a priority. Facility upgrades were not only needed to recruit the nation's top athletes, but to provide improved fan amenities and safety. The 1999 season unveiled the $36.1 million Memorial Stadium Improvement Project, which included more than just 42 skyboxes and a press facility. Most impressively, the project provided a sound financial base for the future. Memorial Stadium improvements began with the addition of two HuskerVision replay boards in 1994, making Nebraska the first collegiate-owned venue to feature replay boards for its fans. Renovations went on to include an expanded training room, improved locker rooms, new public address system, expanded restrooms, improved concession areas and improved seating for disabled fans.

The facility updates do not end with the football program. The University of Nebraska, the City of Lincoln and Lincoln Professional Baseball broke ground on a new $32.1 million baseball/softball complex in April, 2000. Byrne led fund-raising efforts for the complex, which will be home to the NU baseball and softball teams in 2002, and was Lincoln's new Northern League franchise's home in the summer of 2001. The baseball stadium has a capacity of 6,000, while the softball stadium will have a capacity of about 2,500. The stadiums boast state-of-the-art technology with an underground heating system, allowing groundskeepers to grow grass year-round.

Byrne also helped guide the more than $7.9 million in improvements at the Bob Devaney Sports Center before the start of the 1999-2000 campaign. The project included HuskerVision screens, improved fan amenities, better seating for disabled fans and a complete upper concourse renovation. Other improvements include a new locker room for the women's staff, a new roof over the pool area and the basketball arena, a new weight room, new women's basketball locker room and a passenger elevator.

The track and field program has also benefited under Byrne, receiving a $2 million renovation project at the Ed Weir Outdoor Track and a $2.9 million indoor track renovation at the Devaney Sports Center. The new track at the BDSC now allows Nebraska to compete on one of just seven hydraulic-banked indoor tracks in the world.

In 1998-99, the Abbott Sports Complex received a new press facility, while the women's rifle program kicked off its first season with a new shooting range. In 1997-98, NU's Softball Complex received a new press box and exit plaza, and the Coliseum received a new volleyball ready room.

During Byrne's tenure, improvements and reorganization of the offices within the department have helped make Nebraska more user-friendly and better able to utilize Byrne's plan of "one-stop shopping" for fans and student-athletes. He reorganized NU's fund-raising efforts and started an integrated marketing and licensing program, which quickly moved among the top five revenue-generating programs in the country.

Byrne orchestrated these improvements while maintaining his belief in keeping a balanced budget. NU had a $2.5 million deficit when Byrne arrived in 1992. While operating on a $40 million budget, the deficit is gone and the athletic program now provides more than $40 million in economic impact to the Lincoln community each year.

He has made 10 coaching hires in the last eight years, and his ability to recognize young, charismatic talent is evident. In fact, eight of Byrne's hires reached NCAA postseason play during their first two years at Nebraska, while seven have finished a season among the top eight in the nation.

Since joining the Huskers, Byrne hired Dan Kendig in 1994 for women's gymnastics (advanced to the NCAA Championships six of the last seven seasons); women's soccer coach John Walker in 1994 (five straight NCAA Championships appearances, including Elite Eight twice); Paul Sanderford for women's basketball in 1997 (earned NCAA tournament berth each of first three seasons); Bill Straub for women's bowling in 1997 (won national title in 1999 and 2001); Dave Van Horn to lead the baseball program in 1998 (advanced to the 2001 College World Series); football coach Frank Solich in 1997 (won Big 12 title and earned No. 2 final ranking in 1999); Karen Anthony for women's rifle in 1998 (two straight top-10 finishes at NCAA Championships); John Cook for volleyball in 1999 (went undefeated and won national title in 2000); Barry Collier for men's basketball in 2000 (faced one of the toughest schedules in the country in 2000-01); and Mark Manning for wrestling (eighth-place finish at NCAA championships in 2001).

Nebraska became only the second school in NCAA history to win three national football titles in a four-year span. NU has produced eight national championships (three football, two volleyball and women's bowling, and men's gymnastics), 60 regular-season league titles and 16 conference tournament titles during Byrne's tenure. He has helped increase Nebraska's conference-leading athletic program to 23 sports with the additions of women's soccer (1994), women's bowling (1997-98) and women's rifle (1998-99) and has been a strong supporter of complying with Title IX. In the past seven years, Byrne has promoted three women to senior administrative positions. In fact, Nebraska is the only school in the nation with a woman in charge of football operations and one of just a handful of Division I football schools to have a woman directing its Sports Information department.

Byrne has continued to make great strides in helping Nebraska improve its rank among the nation's elite, even though the Huskers entered the powerful Big 12 Conference in 1996. During the 2000-01 season, Nebraska:

- ▶ finished in the top 25 nationally in 11 sports (football, volleyball, soccer, baseball, bowling, women's gymnastics, women's swimming and diving, women's indoor track, rifle, wrestling and softball).
- ▶ recorded its sixth consecutive top-15 finish in the Sears Directors' Cup standings with a 13th-place showing in Division I.
- ▶ won seven regular-season Big 12 championships (soccer, volleyball, men's indoor track, women's indoor track, women's gymnastics, baseball and softball) and two Big 12 tournament titles (baseball and soccer).

Byrne has worked tirelessly to establish close ties with the NU community and has canvassed the state visiting with boosters to learn the needs of all Husker fans. In conjunction with the rest of the NU administration, Byrne arranged to use the Husker football and basketball networks to promote causes and concerns important to the university community, including the institution's increased role in research.

Byrne was hired to replace legendary coach and athletic director Bob Devaney on June 26, 1992, becoming the 11th Nebraska Director of Athletics after 10 successful years at the University of Oregon. Highly respected among his peers, Byrne was named the Central Region NACDA/Continental Athletic Director of the Year along with being recognized by the American Football Foundation in 1999. Byrne was vice-president and secretary-treasurer of the College Football Association and has served on the NCAA Special Committee on Marketing and Licensing and the Committee on Special Events. He is a member of the NCAA Championships Cabinet and a member of the NCAA Football Committee, and served as president of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics in 1991-92. He is in his ninth year on the NACDA Executive Committee.

Before coming to Nebraska, Byrne became one of the youngest directors of athletics in Division I, assuming the top job at Oregon in May 1984. He established fund-raising offices in Portland and southern Oregon and set up a full-time marketing and promotions operation. Byrne led the fund drive that resulted in new homes for Oregon's football team and athletic offices and was responsible for the construction of a new press box, sky suites and total renovation of Autzen Stadium in 1991.

Byrne attended Idaho State where he was the student body president and received bachelor's and master's degrees in business in 1967 and 1971. He was previously an assistant athletic director at San Diego State (1980-82), executive director of the New Mexico Lobo Club (1976-79) and director of alumni relations at Idaho State (1971-76).

Byrne's wife, Marilyn, is the dean of graduate studies in educational leadership at Doane College and earned her Ph.D. in higher education administration from NU. The Byrnes have two sons and two grandsons. Bill and Marilyn's older son, Bill, is a vice president for Visa in its world-wide computer center located in San Mateo, Calif. Greg and Regina Byrne and their sons, Nicholas, 6, and Davis, 4, live in Junction City, Ore., where Greg is an associate athletic director at Oregon State.

Frank Solich

Head Coach Fourth Year

Few college football coaches have faced a more daunting task than the one that greeted Frank Solich when he took over the Nebraska football program in 1998.

After all, the Husker program had won three national titles in four seasons and posted an unprecedented 29 straight nine-win seasons.

But while his challenge was great, there was no other coach as prepared for the task as Solich, a veteran assistant in the Nebraska program. Solich is a product of the Nebraska football program that has been the model of stability, consistency and excellence in collegiate athletics for nearly 40 years. Those qualities were established by Coach Bob Devaney, then carried on for a quarter century by his successor, Tom Osborne.

That stability was the primary reason that on Dec. 10, 1997, just moments after Osborne announced his retirement, Solich was named the 26th head coach in Nebraska's 110 years of football tradition. Solich fits the Husker model for success. Just as Osborne was groomed by Devaney to be the head coach, Solich was Osborne's heir-apparent. He served on Osborne's staff for 19 seasons, first for four seasons as the head freshman coach and for 15 years as running backs coach. His last seven years as an assistant, Solich had the additional duties of assistant head coach.

As he enters his fourth season as head coach, he has proved to be the right choice to lead one of the nation's elite football programs. Solich has guided the Huskers to a 31-7 record in the past three years, the most wins by a Nebraska coach in his first three seasons at the helm. In fact, Solich is just the sixth coach in NCAA Division I-A history to post 31 or more wins in his first three seasons.

The 2000 season, Solich's 22nd on the NU staff, was another solid one. Nebraska was ranked No. 1 by the Associated Press for nine weeks and by the USA Today/ESPN Coaches Poll for 10 consecutive weeks after finishing the 1999 season ranked No. 2 nationally by the coaches and No. 3 by the AP.

The Huskers carried the weight of being the preseason No. 1 team in the land by starting the year with a 7-0 record. Among the more memorable victories was an exciting 27-24 overtime win at Notre Dame in the teams' first meeting since the 1973 Orange Bowl. During its season-opening winning streak, NU also recorded back-to-back victories over Iowa State and Texas Tech squads which went on to postseason bowl appearances, before the streak ended with a 31-14 loss to then-No. 3 Oklahoma.

The Huskers remained in the hunt for a national title despite the loss to the Sooners and rebounded like champions with a 56-17 win over Kansas, before falling in another thriller with a 29-28 loss at No. 11 Kansas State. Following a walk-off field goal – the first in Nebraska history – which gave the Huskers a 34-32 victory over Colorado in the regular-season finale, Nebraska closed with a 9-2 overall record and a second-place finish in the Big 12 North Division.

Nebraska extended its NCAA record to 32 consecutive bowl appearances by running past Northwestern in the Alamo Bowl, winning 66-17. The victory, which left NU with a 10-2 overall record and No. 8 ranking by the AP and No. 9 by the coaches, was the Huskers' most lopsided bowl win in history.

The 2000 version of the Huskers featured the nation's No. 1 rushing attack, averaging 349.3 yards per game, while rolling up 459.9 yards of total offense. The Huskers led the Big 12 in rushing for the third straight season with Solich as NU's head coach. Senior I-back Dan Alexander became the latest in a rich tradition of Husker running backs to rush for more than 1,000 yards in a season, capping an outstanding career with 1,154 yards on the ground. Alexander, who was also one of eight semifinalists for the Doak Walker Award, also added an NU bowl record 240 yards rushing against Northwestern in the Alamo Bowl. Junior quarterback Eric Crouch became Nebraska's all-time quarterback rushing leader with 2,319 yards and ranks 13th all-time on the Nebraska rushing charts. By the end of the season, Crouch, Buckhalter and Alexander each had broke the 2,000-yard plateau, becoming the first-ever trio from one team to do it in the same season.

The Huskers' success on the field in 2000 extended some of the most impressive streaks by any program in the nation, as NU grabbed its 39th consecutive winning season and 32nd consecutive nine-win season. Nebraska also stretched its home winning streak to 13 games with its mesmerizing 34-32 walk-off win on a field goal against Colorado in the home finale.

The 1999 season was a special one for Solich and his Husker team. A midseason loss at Texas damaged Nebraska's national championship hopes, but Solich rallied his troops for an impressive stretch run. Nebraska faced possibly the nation's toughest five-game slate to end the season, but the Huskers answered with authority.

Nebraska shut out defending Big 12 champion Texas A&M, 37-0, then came back a week later to rout previously unbeaten Kansas State, 41-15. Against a dangerous Colorado team in Boulder, Solich led the Huskers to a gutsy overtime win, setting the stage for Nebraska's most impressive outing of the 1999 campaign.

The Huskers avenged their only loss of the season with a dominating 22-6 win against Texas in the Big 12 Championship game in San Antonio. The win made Nebraska the first team to capture two Big 12 titles and gave Solich his first league crown in just his second season.

Solich's Huskers completed their late-season charge with a show of force against Tennessee in the Tostitos Fiesta Bowl. Nebraska manhandled the No. 6 Volunteers with a rushing attack that churned out 321 yards. The Huskers finished the season ranked second nationally by the Associated Press and third in the USA Today/ESPN Coaches Poll.

The Huskers' 1999 team success was largely attributed to Solich's calm and confident direction. He coolly made tough on- and off-field personnel decisions early in the season, then watched as NU responded by developing cohesive offensive and defensive units, as well as exceptional special teams. Solich's role in NU's championship season was recognized, as he was chosen Big 12 Coach of the Year by both his coaching peers and the AP.

The 1999 Huskers were dominant on defense, ranking in the nation's top six in all four major defensive statistical categories, including fourth in total defense. But Nebraska wasn't far behind on offense. The Husker ground game captured the league rushing title for the 12th straight season and ranked fourth nationally, averaging 265.9 yards per game. And like Osborne's teams and

Solich's first squad, the Huskers boasted a strong special teams unit, ranking 12th in the nation in net punting and recording 10 blocked kicks during the season. Nebraska's 12-1 season marked the seventh season with 12 or more wins, its fourth in the 1990s and sixth time in 21 seasons with Solich on the Husker coaching staff.

In Solich's first season as head coach, the Huskers posted a 9-4 record. Solich's nine victories in 1998 equaled the totals of his two Hall-of-Fame predecessors, Devaney and Osborne, who each won nine games in their first seasons as Nebraska's head coach.

Nebraska's success in 1998 came in the face of a great deal of adversity that could have made a lesser program shake. NU opened the season with one of its least experienced squads in many seasons. Throughout the year, Solich's leadership was tested by a rash of injuries, as nine projected starters missed a total of 45 games, forcing Solich to put a different starting lineup on the field nearly every Saturday. Despite the hurdles, Nebraska's four losses were by a total of just 24 points and all against teams which finished the season ranked in the nation's top 15.

Nebraska's first-year transition from Osborne to Solich as head coach was smooth. Like Osborne, Solich served as his own offensive coordinator and, like all of Osborne's teams, the 1998 Huskers were among the nation's top rushing teams. The Huskers averaged a Big 12-best 253.8 yards per game on the ground and ranked sixth nationally.

Nebraska's defense was strong in 1998, ranking 22nd in total defense, 16th in rush defense and 11th in scoring defense. The Huskers also boasted a strong special teams unit, ranking seventh in the nation in net punting.

The most important aspect of Solich's promotion to head coach may be that it kept the veteran Husker coaching staff intact. All of Osborne's assistants remained on Solich's first staff. The current Husker coaching staff has a combined 142 years of experience at Nebraska and entering his fourth season, Solich has had to hire just two assistant coaches, including one to replace himself. That experience allowed Solich to begin his head coaching career surrounded by familiar faces and ideas.

The 56-year-old Solich can trace his ties to the Nebraska football program back to the beginning of the Devaney era and the turnaround of Nebraska football. Solich was part of Devaney's first recruiting class at Nebraska and became a standout fullback for the Huskers in the mid-1960s, lettering in 1963, 1964 and 1965. His playing career earned him induction into the Nebraska Football Hall of Fame in 1992.

While some remember Solich for his playing days, most Husker followers are more familiar with his work on Osborne's staff. Noted as one of the nation's top assistant coaches, Solich was tabbed Athlon Magazine's Assistant Coach of the Year before the start of the 1993 season.

Solich has been one of the primary factors in making Nebraska the model for the running game in college football. In nine of Solich's 15 seasons as running backs coach, Nebraska led the nation in rushing, and finished in the top four every year. In the same period, the Huskers led the conference in rushing 13 times, including each of the last 10 seasons, and finished second in 1986 and 1987. In fact, NU churned out more than 350 yards per game while Solich guided the running backs.

Solich, who recruited and coached 1983 Heisman Trophy winner Mike Rozier, produced at least one all-conference running back in 13 of the 15 seasons he tutored that position.

In 1997, Solich's final season as running backs coach, Nebraska won its fifth NCAA rushing title in the 1990s, averaging 392.6

yards per game. Leading the way was junior I-back Ahman Green who earned All-Big 12 and second-team All-America honors. Green rushed for 1,877 yards, the second-best single-season total in NU history, and 22 touchdowns. Green opted to turn pro after his junior year, but his 3,880 career yards rank him as the No. 2 rusher in NU history behind Rozier.

Green's 1997 season continued a run of excellent seasons by Husker I-backs. However, Husker fullbacks have been equally important to the ground game for the last three decades, dating back to Solich's playing days in the 1960s. NU's fullback play has never been stronger than in 1997 and 1998, when Joel Makovicka manned the position. Under Solich as a junior, Makovicka rushed for 685 yards and tied the NU fullback record with nine touchdowns. During his senior season in 1998, Makovicka broke the school record for career touchdowns by a fullback.

In 1996, Solich had a stable of running backs that combined for more than 2,000 yards, despite a series of injuries. Green was a third-team All-Big 12 selection as a sophomore, rushing for a team-high 917 yards. True freshman DeAngelo Evans chipped in 776 yards and scored 14 touchdowns. In 1995, Green broke the school's freshman rushing record with 1,086 yards and earned first-team All-Big Eight honors. He was also named the league's offensive newcomer of the year.

Green was the final addition in a long line of running backs who earned postseason honors and racked up record numbers under Solich. Green became the seventh Husker I-back to be a two-time all-conference selection under Solich, joining Rozier (1982-83), Doug DuBose (1984-85), Keith Jones (1986-87), Ken Clark (1988-89), Derek Brown (1991-92) and Calvin Jones (1992-93). In addition, Lawrence Phillips earned first-team All-Big Eight and second-team All-America honors in 1994, en route to the third-best single-season rushing total in school history. Solich-coached running backs own 20 of NU's 30 200-yard single-game rushing performances, while he accounted for one of the other 10 himself. In addition, Solich tutored seven of the top eight performers on the school career rushing list, including each of the top four.

The dominant Husker running game has keyed an offense that has helped make Nebraska the most successful college football program in the last 30 years. Osborne won 255 games in his 25 years, with Solich on the staff for the last 200 of those victories. In fact, Nebraska teams that Solich has been a part of for the last 22 years have posted an amazing 231-40-1 record, for an .851 winning percentage.

In Solich's 19 years as an assistant on the NU staff, the Huskers captured three national championships, all while Solich was assistant head coach. In the same period, he was on the staff of 11 conference championship teams, 19 postseason bowl squads and 15 teams that finished the season ranked in the nation's top 10.

Nebraska running backs have succeeded by developing the same work ethic that made Solich a standout fullback. Despite weighing less than 160 pounds, Solich was an All-Big Eight fullback and co-captain of the Huskers' 1965 team.

Solich holds the NU single-game rushing record for a fullback with a 204-yard outing against Air Force in 1965. In fact, that performance stood as the NU game record by any player for 10 years and he still ranks 48th on NU's career rushing chart with 1,010 yards. He rushed for 444 yards as a junior in 1964 and was second on the team in 1965 with 580 yards. Solich holds the Orange Bowl record for kickoff return yards with 130 in 1966.

The teams Solich played on started the winning tradition Nebraska has enjoyed for the last 38 years. The Huskers posted records of 9-2, 10-1, 9-2 and 10-1 while Solich was on the roster, won three conference titles and played in four straight bowl games. The 1965 Husker team completed the regular season unbeaten and in position for a national championship, but lost 39-28 to Bear Bryant's Alabama team in the Orange Bowl.

Solich also lettered in baseball for the Huskers in 1965.

A native of Cleveland, Solich prepped at Holy Name High School where he earned all-state, All-America and all-scholastic honors. He received his bachelor's (1966) and master's (1972) degrees from Nebraska.

After his playing days, Solich began his coaching career in the Nebraska prep ranks. He was the head coach at Holy Name High School in Omaha, in 1966 and 1967. His Holy Name teams were 8-8 in two years and the 1967 team was state runner-up. After two seasons in Omaha, Solich moved to one of the top high school programs in the state at Lincoln Southeast. With Solich in charge of the Knights' program, Southeast compiled a 66-33-5 record in 11 years while capturing back-to-back Class A state titles in 1976 and 1977. For his efforts, Solich was named the Lincoln Journal Star Nebraska boys prep coach of the year in 1978.

Solich himself made the move to Nebraska before the 1979 season. His first assignment on Osborne's staff was head freshman coach. In 1979, the young Huskers were 4-1, losing only at Missouri. Solich's 1979 team won its final game, beginning a 24-game winning streak for the freshmen that stretched to 1984. Solich finished his four years as freshman coach with a 19-1 record, before taking over as coach of the running backs in 1983.

With Solich coaching the backs, Nebraska's running attack had unparalleled success in college football. The biggest honor for a Solich-coached back came in the 1983 season when senior Mike Rozier captured the Heisman Trophy after rushing for 2,148 yards and 29 touchdowns. While no one has matched Rozier's season, Nebraska consistently produced some of the nation's top backs under Solich.

In 1984, Nebraska had two first-team All-Big Eight runners as sophomore Doug DuBose and senior Jeff Smith combined to rush for 1,975 yards and 15 touchdowns. As a junior, DuBose gained 1,161 yards to rank ninth nationally in rushing. His 1985 season earned him all-conference and second-team All-America honors. DuBose's backfield running mate in 1985, fullback Tom Rathman, was also an All-Big Eight selection, as he gained 881 yards, a single-season record for Husker fullbacks.

DuBose was primed for a run at the Heisman before a knee injury ended his Husker career in 1986 fall camp. In his absence, Keith Jones earned all-league honors by gaining 830 yards and scoring 14 touchdowns. Jones became Solich's second two-time All-Big Eight selection in 1987 by gaining 1,232 yards and 13 TDs and averaging 7.3 yards per carry.

Solich's I-back excellence continued in 1988 and 1989 with Ken Clark, who earned back-to-back first-team all-conference honors. Clark posted the then-third-best junior season in NU history in 1988, rushing for 1,497 yards and 12 touchdowns. In 1989, he added 1,196 yards and 14 touchdowns to rank fourth on the NU career rushing list with 3,037 yards.

After one season without an all-league back, the Husker "we-backs" hit the scene in 1991. Sophomore Derek Brown ran through the opposition for 1,313 yards and 14 TDs to earn first-team All-Big Eight and third-team All-America honors. Also in 1991, Calvin Jones was named Big Eight Freshman of the Year after rushing for 900 yards, including an NU single-game record 294 yards and six touchdowns at Kansas.

In 1992, Brown and Jones shared time in the Husker backfield and both earned all-league honors. Brown rushed for 1,011 yards, while Jones had 1,210 yards and 14 touchdowns.

After Brown moved on to the NFL following his junior season, Jones was left to carry the load in 1993. Despite an early-season knee injury that ended his Heisman hopes, Jones earned all-league honors by rushing for 1,043 yards and 12 scores and helping the Huskers to within a missed field goal of a national title. Jones finished his career with 3,153 yards to rank third in career rushing at NU. He also captured the Big Eight rushing crown his final two seasons, the fourth player to earn that title under Solich, joining Rozier (1983), DuBose (1984) and Keith Jones (1986).

Jones' early departure to the NFL left the I-back duties in the hands of sophomore Lawrence Phillips in 1994. Phillips responded in record fashion, running for a Nebraska sophomore-record 1,722 yards and 16 touchdowns to earn All-Big Eight and second-team All-America honors. He also finished eighth in the Heisman trophy balloting, the highest for a Nebraska player in 10 seasons.

In 1995, Solich started four different players at the I-back spot, including Green who set the Husker frosh rushing record. Despite the unsettled situation at I-back, the Huskers didn't miss a beat, averaging just less than 400 yards per game and racking up an NCAA bowl-record 524 yards rushing in the Fiesta Bowl win over Florida.

In his 22 years on the Husker staff, Solich has been one of the nation's top recruiters. As an assistant, Solich primarily recruited the eastern part of the United States, but he also has recruiting experience in the Midwest. He has routinely brought prep All-America players to NU. Several players he recruited to Nebraska went on to professional careers, including Irving Fryar, Brian Washington, Mike Croel, Tyrone Legette, Donta Jones and Doug Colman.

His ability to bring top talent to Lincoln has been evident in his first three recruiting classes as head coach. Solich's first three classes have included a combined 45 prep All-Americans and players from 18 different states, plus Canada. All three classes have been ranked in the nation's top 20, including the 2000 and 2001 classes, generally regarded as top-10 classes.

Solich's duties as an assistant coach under Osborne included several administrative roles. From 1983 to 1997, Solich was the director of the University of Nebraska Football Camp and the director of the University of Nebraska Football Coaches Clinic.

Since Solich took over the camp in 1983, the Husker camp numbers tripled to the current enrollment of 1,700 athletes per summer. Solich's work has also made the Nebraska coaches clinic one of the nation's largest events of its kind. When he took over the project in 1983 the average attendance was about 200 high school coaches. The 2001 clinic attracted more than 1,100 coaches from across the nation.

As Osborne's assistant head coach for seven seasons, Solich was the No. 2 spokesperson for the football team. He represented the Husker football teams in meetings with the NCAA, Big Eight and Big 12 conferences, as well as media gatherings.

Solich is married to the former Pamela Wieck, of Beatrice, Neb., and they have two children, Cindy and Jeff. Cindy and her husband, Jon Dalton, have a 6-year old daughter, Catherine, and a 4-year old son, Aaron. Jeff and Chara gave the coach and Pam their third grandchild with grandson Cade, who will celebrate his second birthday this October.

Solich's 31 wins in his first three seasons as head coach at Nebraska ranks ahead of NU Hall of Fame coaches Bob Devaney (28) and Tom Osborne (28).

Husker Football Assistant Coaches

Craig Bohl

Defensive Coordinator/Linebackers
Seventh Year

Craig Bohl enters his second year as the Huskers' defensive coordinator and seventh season on staff as linebackers coach. Bohl took over the defensive coordinator duties following Charlie McBride's retirement as Nebraska's defensive coordinator after the completion of the 2000 campaign.

Bohl, a Lincoln native, rejoined the Nebraska football family in the spring of 1995. He played for Nebraska under Tom Osborne from 1977 through 1979 and served as a graduate assistant coach for the Huskers from 1981 to 1983. The 15-year collegiate coaching veteran is one of five former Husker players on staff.

In Bohl's six seasons on Nebraska's defensive staff, the Huskers have ranked no lower than 26th nationally in total defense. During 2000, Nebraska ranked among the top 30 nationally in all four defensive categories, including seventh nationally in pass efficiency defense. Last year he also coached senior Carlos Polk, who earned first-team All-America honors.

A strong recruiter, Bohl recruits Missouri, Kansas and North Florida.

Bohl spent the 1994 campaign as Duke's defensive coordinator and inside linebackers coach, and was instrumental in one of college football's biggest turnarounds. Bohl helped the Blue Devils to an 8-4 record (a five-game improvement from a 3-8 mark in 1993) and a berth in the Hall of Fame Bowl, the school's first postseason appearance since 1989.

Before moving to Duke with Coach Fred Goldsmith, Bohl spent five seasons as Goldsmith's defensive coordinator at Rice. During his Rice tenure, three of his linebackers earned All-Southwest Conference honors.

Before his stint at Rice, Bohl spent two seasons (1987-88) at Wisconsin as linebackers coach, two campaigns (1985-86) as the linebacker mentor at Tulsa and one season (1984) as the secondary coach at North Dakota State.

Bohl is married to the former Deanna Hauptman of Nebraska City, and they have 10-year-old twin daughters, Mallory and Morgan, and a 7-year-old son, Aaron. Deanna graduated from Nebraska in 1983 with a marketing degree.

Nelson Barnes

Rush Ends
Fifth Year

Nelson Barnes enters his fifth season as an assistant coach, and will look to continue Nebraska's long tradition of outstanding defensive ends.

In the past four seasons, Barnes helped build outstanding defenses that have guided NU to two Big 12 titles and a national championship in 1997.

Last year, Barnes helped rush end Kyle Vanden Bosch earn all-conference accolades while ranking among the team leaders in tackles, sacks and quarterback hurries. Vanden Bosch also proved his worth in the classroom, as he earned numerous academic honors before being the Huskers' highest selection in the 2001 NFL Draft.

Barnes, who came to Nebraska after three seasons at the University of Texas, is the only person in the Big 12 Conference with three league football championship rings. He collected his first ring when the Longhorns defeated Nebraska for the inaugural Big 12 title in 1996.

In 1999, Barnes' rush ends helped the Huskers to a school-record 53 sacks and 112 tackles for loss. The Husker defense ranked in the nation's top six in all four major defensive categories, including fourth in total defense.

Barnes plays an integral part in Nebraska's recruiting success. His primary areas of recruiting responsibility include the East Coast, Tennessee, Ohio, Georgia, Pennsylvania and Mississippi.

Barnes also was familiar of Nebraska after spending one season at Kansas State. In Manhattan, Barnes coached the defensive line for head coach Bill Snyder. That season Kansas State posted a 9-2-1 record and recorded the school's first bowl victory at the Copper Bowl.

Before his one-year stay at KSU, Barnes spent the 1991 and 1992 seasons as the defensive line coach at Western Illinois and assisted the 1991 team to the I-AA playoffs. He also served in the same role at Missouri Western in 1990.

Barnes' college coaching experience began at North Texas. He served as the defensive line/linebackers coach at the school from 1983 to 1989 and was a graduate assistant at the school in 1981 and 1982.

Barnes played at North Texas under Coach Hayden Fry and was a three-year starter for UNT on the defensive line. He helped North Texas to back-to-back 9-2 records in 1977 and 1978. Barnes earned a bachelor's degree in industrial arts from North Texas in 1982.

A native of Alvin, Texas, he is married to the former Cydney Young.

Ron Brown

Receivers
15th Year

Ron Brown enters his 15th season as the Huskers' receivers coach. Although the Nebraska offense features a strong rushing attack, Brown's receivers have been an integral part to the Huskers' overall offensive success.

Brown's receivers, noted as excellent perimeter blockers, have helped NU to eight NCAA rushing titles in the last 14 seasons, while also leading the conference in touchdown receptions three times in Brown's tenure.

Twenty-four of Brown's former pupils have gone on to professional careers, including tight end Johnny Mitchell, the New York Jets' 1992 first-round draft pick, Tyrone Hughes, a two-time NFL Pro Bowl selection with the New Orleans Saints, and tight end Sheldon Jackson, a seventh-round pick of Buffalo in the 1999 NFL Draft.

In recent years, Nebraska has secured a number of players from Arizona, Colorado, Utah, all Brown's areas of responsibility. His area also now includes much of Texas.

Brown joined Nebraska's staff after a four-year stint at Brown University in Providence, R.I. He spent one season as the Bears' head freshman coach in 1983, then moved up to the varsity staff and tutored the defensive backs for three seasons. He also served as the assistant to the athletic director in 1986.

A standout defensive back at Brown and a member of the school's Sports Hall of Fame, Brown received his bachelor's degree in 1979, then earned his master's degree in health administration from Columbia in 1982. He began his coaching career as defensive coordinator for the semi-pro New Jersey Rams in 1982, before moving to his alma mater in 1983.

Brown hosts two statewide Christian radio shows and has authored several books on Christian character and growth, including his fall 2000 release "Miracle in Missouri." Brown and former Husker Stan Parker are co-founders and co-directors of a statewide Christian ministry called "Mission Nebraska." The organization runs several Christian camps for lower income children throughout Nebraska.

Brown is married to Molvina Carter of San Diego, Calif., and they have two daughters, Sojourner Elaine, 6 and Bronwyn Pearl, 3.

George Darlington

Defensive Backs 29th Year

George Darlington, the dean of the NU football coaching staff, is the only remaining member of Tom Osborne's original Husker staff. Darlington is beginning his 29th season at Nebraska and his 16th as the Huskers' secondary coach. He originally tutored the defensive ends for 13 years.

Darlington was the recipient of a 1998 All-American Football Foundation "Top Assistant Award." In 2000, the veteran assistant received another coaching honor, as his homestate of West Virginia honored the Charleston native with the first-ever George Cafego Award for distinguishment in the coaching profession. Cafego was a West Virginia native who was a consensus All-America halfback at Tennessee and finished fourth in the 1939 Heisman voting.

Darlington's secondary was again outstanding in 2000, ranking seventh in the nation in pass efficiency defense. The top-10 ranking marked the second straight season NU was listed among the nation's elite, and fourth time in Darlington's career. The previous year, All-Americans Mike Brown and Ralph Brown led the Husker secondary to top-five rankings in pass efficiency defense, scoring and total defense.

Darlington plays a major role in bringing top talent to the Nebraska campus. The veteran assistant has been vital to landing top players from the state of California for several years, and recently Darlington has started a pipeline from the Hawaiian islands to Lincoln.

Before joining Osborne's staff in 1973, Darlington spent four seasons as an assistant coach at San Jose State (1969-72). He coached two years at Johnson Regional High School (1962-63) in Clark, N.J., then started his collegiate coaching career at Lebanon Valley (Pa.) College (1964-67), followed by one year at Dartmouth (1968) before going to San Jose State.

A 1961 graduate of Rutgers University with a bachelor's degree in history and physical education, Darlington earned his master's degree from Stanford in 1962. While at Rutgers, Darlington lettered in football in 1959 and 1960, and lettered twice in lacrosse, earning third-team All-America honors in 1961. George and his wife, Susan, have three children, Lisa, David and Julia, and four grandchildren.

Turner Gill

Quarterbacks 10th Year

Former All-Big Eight Husker signal caller Turner Gill enters his 10th season as Nebraska's quarterbacks coach.

This season, Gill will work with senior Eric Crouch again in 2001. Under Gill's tutelage, Crouch has joined an elite list of quarterbacks, as he enters the season among the all-time leaders in total offense and already owns the school's rushing yards record for quarterbacks.

Gill's development of excellent quarterbacks is far from his only asset to the Husker staff. He is regarded as a strong recruiter, covering parts of Alabama, Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma, Kentucky and north central and eastern Texas for Nebraska. Along with Dan Young, Gill also heads up the "Hire a Husker" program, which matches NU student-athletes with local businesses for summer employment.

As Nebraska's starting signal caller from 1981 through 1983, Gill led the Huskers to a 28-2 mark, including a 20-0 league record, and three conference titles. A three-time All-Big Eight pick and a second-team All-American as a senior, Gill was the key to the Huskers' high-octane offense in 1983, a season in which NU I-back Mike Rozier won the Heisman Trophy and Gill finished fourth in the voting for collegiate football's top award. The 1983 team finished 12-1 and second in the final polls. In his four-year career (1980-83), Gill completed 231-of-428 passes for 3,317 yards, 34 touchdowns and a .540 completion percentage and rushed for 1,317 yards and 18 TDs. He is sixth on NU's all-time total offense chart with 4,634 yards.

Gill spent two seasons with the Canadian Football League's Montreal Concordes (1984-85) and three years (1986-88) in the Cleveland and Detroit minor league baseball systems. He left baseball and went back to Texas in 1989, where he was a volunteer assistant football coach at North Texas and earned his degree in behavior analysis in 1990.

Gill returned to Nebraska in 1990 and served as a graduate assistant, then moved to SMU as a graduate assistant for the 1991 campaign. He served as the Mustangs' receivers coach for that season and was elevated to a full-time coaching position, but returned to NU in August of 1992.

He is married to the former Gayle DeBrie, of Kearney, Neb., and they have two daughters, Jordan, 11, and Margaux, 7.

Dave Gillespie

Running Backs Fourth Year

Dave Gillespie is beginning his fourth season on the Husker coaching staff, and will look to lead Nebraska to yet another NCAA rushing title in 2001.

Gillespie was hired in the spring of 1998 to take Head Coach Frank Solich's position as the assistant coach in charge of running backs. In addition to his on-field duties, Gillespie also serves as Nebraska's recruiting coordinator.

The Nebraska running game has not missed a beat with Gillespie in charge. Nebraska has captured Big 12 rushing titles the past three seasons, including last year's 349.3 ypg rushing which led the nation. It was NU's 14th NCAA rushing title, the most by any team in the nation.

Gillespie's Nebraska ties are strong. He was a running back for the Huskers early in Tom Osborne's coaching career from 1974 to 1976. Gillespie began his coaching career in the Nebraska high school ranks from 1978-84, and then rejoined the Nebraska staff as a graduate assistant for Osborne in 1985. He then served as the Huskers' administrative assistant and recruiting coordinator from 1986 to 1993.

Gillespie returned to Nebraska after four seasons on the staff at the University of Kansas. He served as a Jayhawk assistant for three seasons (1994-96) under Glen Mason, working with the tight ends in 1994 before serving as defensive line coach in 1995-96. In 1997, Gillespie served as an administrative assistant for first-year Jayhawk coach Terry Allen.

During his eight-year span as recruiting coordinator at Nebraska (1986-93), Gillespie assisted in the recruitment of 15 All-Americans, including three Outland Trophy winners (Will Shields, Zach Wiegert and Aaron Taylor), one Butkus Award winner (Trev Alberts), one Heisman Trophy runner-up (Tommie Frazier) and one Lombardi Award winner (Grant Wistrom). His last recruiting class (1993) posted a 60-3 five-year record, winning three national championships.

His strong record in overseeing Nebraska's recruiting efforts made Gillespie a natural fit to take over Solich's previous recruiting territory. He now directs NU recruiting efforts in Missouri, Kansas and northern California, along with the midwestern and western Junior Colleges.

Gillespie received three letters as an I-back for Nebraska and earned his bachelor's degree from NU in 1977. He went on to earn his master's degree in educational administration in 1986.

Gillespie is married to the former Anne Van Pelt and they have three daughters, Katie, 20, Nicole, 17, and Emily, 14. Gillespie was born in the San Jose, Calif., area and graduated from Westmont High School in San Jose in 1973.

Jeff Jamrog

Defensive Line Second Year

Former Husker defensive end Jeff Jamrog is in his second season as the Huskers' defensive tackles and nose tackles coach.

In his first season on staff, Jamrog, who took the place of long-time defensive coordinator and defensive line coach Charlie McBride following his retirement in 2000, helped the NU defensive line establish a strong presence up front. The Huskers allowed just 113.7 yards rushing per game last season, ranking fifth in the league and 27th in the nation.

Before joining the Husker staff, Jamrog spent three years as defensive coordinator and inside linebackers coach at New Mexico State. At the Las Cruces, N.M., school, Jamrog helped Head Coach Tony Samuel, a former Husker assistant, turn around a program that had just two winning seasons in the previous 31 years until 1999. In 1999, the Aggies went 6-5, the first winning season at NMSU since 1992. Jamrog's defense ranked first in the Big West Conference and 14th in the country in pass efficiency defense. The Aggies ranked second in the conference in scoring defense and total defense, holding four opponents to a touchdown or less.

From 1994 to 1996, Jamrog was the defensive coordinator at Nebraska-Omaha under head coach Pat Behrms. His first year, Jamrog coached the defensive line, then moved to inside linebackers for the last two seasons.

Before his stay at UNO, Jamrog spent four seasons as an assistant at South Dakota (1990-93), first under Coach John Fritch, then under Dennis Creehan. Jamrog helped Coach Creehan turn South Dakota around from a 1-8 season in 1991 to a 6-5 mark in 1993. At USD, Jamrog coached inside linebackers, was the special teams coordinator and also served as the academic coordinator.

Before his stay at UNO, Jamrog spent four seasons as an assistant at South Dakota (1990-93), first under Coach John Fritch, then under Dennis Creehan. Jamrog helped Coach Creehan turn South Dakota around from a 1-8 season in 1991 to a 6-5 mark in 1993. At USD, Jamrog coached inside linebackers, was the special teams coordinator and also served as the academic coordinator.

Jamrog began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at Nebraska during the 1988 and 1989 seasons, earning his master's degree and an NCAA postgraduate scholarship. His duties included serving as the special teams coordinator and coaching the inside linebackers.

A former walk-on for the Huskers, Jamrog played for the freshman team in 1983, redshirted in 1984, then lettered three years as a defensive end playing for Coach Samuel, his position coach. As a senior, Jamrog had 66 tackles including 47 solo stops, eight sacks and 13 tackles for loss.

Jamrog earned his bachelor of science degree from UNL in 1987 and his master's degree in business administration from UNL in 1990. He is married to the former Connie J. Hoeven and together they have three children, Elizabeth, 10, Brett, 8 and Jared, 5.

Milt Tenopir

Offensive Line 28th Year

Milt Tenopir returns for his 28th campaign as the Huskers' offensive line coach, the second-longest tenure on the NU staff. No college football program can boast the honors that Nebraska's offensive linemen have piled up during Tenopir's tenure with the Huskers.

Last season, the Husker offensive line paved the way for NU's third consecutive Big 12 rushing title and 12th NCAA rushing title during Tenopir's tenure. It was also NU's 14th title all-time, the most of any school in the nation, as the NU offense averaged 349.3 yards per game on the ground, its highest total in four seasons.

Tenopir's "Pipeline" played a major role in back-to-back national titles in 1994 and 1995. The 1994 unit keyed the Husker offense to 340.0 rushing yards per game. The 1983 Husker offense is recognized as one of the best in college football history, as Nebraska averaged a school-record 401.7 rushing yards per game that season.

Under Tenopir's guidance, Nebraska has produced six Outland Trophy winners and a pair of Lombardi Award honorees. In all, Tenopir has coached 20 All-Americans, 11 academic All-Americans, six NCAA Today's Top Eight Award winners and 48 all-conference selections. The Huskers have had at least one first-team all-conference lineman in each of Tenopir's 27 seasons on the sideline, while his O-line has had at least one academic all-conference selection for 23 straight years. From 1981 to 1983, the Huskers produced an unprecedented three straight Outland Trophy winners in Dave Rimington (1981-82) and Dean Steinkuhler (1983).

Tenopir has long been a strong force in Nebraska's recruiting success. He was the leading figure in Nebraska breaking the University of Oklahoma's stranglehold on the talent in the Sooner state. Tenopir also handles the recruitment of Missouri, Kansas and west Texas. The veteran assistant is in charge of Nebraska's spring coaching clinic, which this past April brought over 1,100 high school coaches to campus.

Tenopir is the father of three grown children, Kim, Todd and Pamela, and has six grandchildren. Tenopir is married to the former Terri Richardson, and is the stepfather to Dana and Daniel.

Dan Young

Offensive Line/Kickers 19th Year

Dan Young enters his 19th season on the Nebraska coaching staff and his 16th as the Huskers' offensive line and kicking coach. Under Young's guidance the Nebraska kicking game and offensive line has been at its best, boasting the top place-kickers and punters in school history.

Last season, Dan Hadenfeldt ranked second in the league and eighth nationally in punting average, and broke the Nebraska career punting average record (44.39 ypp). This year, placekicker Josh Brown returns after ranking second on the team in scoring in each of the past two seasons.

Young also played a key role in coaching the Husker offensive line that guided NU to the last three Big 12 rushing titles. While Young has assisted with the offensive line, the Huskers have won nine NCAA rushing titles and three NU offensive linemen have won the Outland Trophy.

The veteran assistant heads up Nebraska's in-state recruiting efforts, in addition to recruiting several other Midwestern states. In the last three years, Nebraska has signed 27 in-state players to scholarships. Young also directs the Husker summer football camp, which annually attracts more than 1,700 prepsters to Lincoln. Young, and fellow assistant Turner Gill, also head up the "Hire a Husker" program, matching Husker student-athletes with summer employers.

Young became an offensive line coach with Milt Tenopir when Cletus Fischer retired from coaching after the 1985 season. Young spent three years (1983-85) as head freshman/junior varsity coach, where his teams posted a 14-1-0 record, before joining the varsity staff.

Young came to NU after six successful seasons as head coach at Omaha's Westside High School, where his Warriors were 55-11-0 from 1977 to 1982, reached the state championship game three times and posted back-to-back 12-0-0 state title seasons in 1981 and 1982. Young began his coaching career as head coach at Barneston (Neb.) High School from 1962 to 1964. After a year as an assistant coach at St. Paul (Neb.) High School, he served as an assistant at Westside for 11 seasons.

Young received his bachelor's degree from Kearney State in 1962 and earned his master's degree in liberal studies from Reed College in 1972.

He has two grown children, Jeff and Kris, and five grandchildren. Dan is married to the former Ronda Ludvigson, and is the stepfather to Leah and Cami.

Attend one of Husker Power's camps and prepare yourself to improve your athletic performance in any sport. You will improve your speed, power and agility with instruction and guidance from Nebraska's strength coaches.

Performance 100 meets twice a week for four weeks. Athletes between the ages of 10 and 15 and a parent (optional) learn the basic fundamentals of strength training.

adidas Speed Camp is offered twice each year in June in conjunction with Nebraska Football School. In this one-day camp, male and female athletes entering high school learn the strength training and conditioning regimen that is necessary to improve their athletic performance.

Performance 101 is for high school athletes who are serious about taking athletics to the next level. The athletes execute the "Make the Play" program during this intense six-week training camp.

Check out the new Football Make the Play CD-ROM. All the drills and exercises from the Football

Make the Play program are included, complete with step-by-step instructions and QuickTime demonstrations.

Husker Volleyball

The memories of a perfect season remain fresh in the minds of the Nebraska volleyball players. The Huskers' storybook 2000

Greichaly Cepero
Junior

included a preseason trip to China, a Big 12 Conference title and the program's second national championship.

But NU Coach John Cook can think of only one thing he would like to do with those memories — forget them.

"If we worry about defending something, if we worry about what happened last year, then we won't be living in the here and now," Cook said. "Last season was perfect in just about every way, but we're going to have to get rid of that at some point. Expectations couldn't be higher. This is a new team, and there are plenty of challenges waiting for us."

Nebraska will play perhaps the toughest non-conference schedule in the country. The Huskers' first nine matches of the season will be against teams that qualified for the 2000 NCAA Tournament.

But NU returns a strong nucleus led by 2000 AVCA Player of the Year Greichaly Cepero. Cepero redefined the setter position in 2000, as she was the only setter ranked among the nation's top 20 in blocks per game and the only setter in the Big 12 to lead her team in kills in a single match.

Cepero will be joined by All-Americans Laura Pilakowski, Amber Holmquist and Nancy Metcalf.

Pilakowski, a junior outside hitter, burst onto the national scene last season in her first year as a starter, leading the Huskers with 4.30 kills per game and a .336 hitting percentage, the best mark by a Big 12 left-side hitter.

Holmquist, a junior middle blocker led the nation in blocks per game last season with 1.98, a Nebraska school record.

Metcalf, a senior right side hitter who was the 1999 Big 12 Player of the Year, redshirted in 2000 after training with the U.S. National Team during the offseason. One of the most dynamic attackers in school history, Metcalf used her season on the sidelines to perfect a jump serve and to develop into one of Nebraska's best defensive players.

Other returnees include senior middle blocker Jenny Kropp, who ranked fourth nationally with 1.63 blocks per game; junior defensive specialist Lindsay Wischmeier, the only Husker to play in every game in 2000; and sophomore outside hitter Anna Schrad, who backed up both outside hitter positions in 2000.

NCAA Record Sellout Streak Continues at Memorial Stadium

Nebraska's continuing NCAA record of consecutive home sellouts passed the 200-mark in 1994 and reached 239 with six home sellouts in 2000. On Homecoming, Oct. 29, 1994, against the University of Colorado, Nebraska celebrated its 200th consecutive sellout. In 2000, Nebraska set a single-season home attendance record by averaging 77,878 fans for six home games, breaking the old record average of 77,729 set in 1999.

The string of consecutive sellouts started on Nov. 3, 1962, when 36,501 showed up for the Homecoming contest vs. Missouri. The last non-sellout in Memorial Stadium was Oct. 20, 1962, when the Huskers and Kansas State drew 30,701.

With renovations for the 2000 season, the Cornhuskers' Memorial Stadium capacity was reduced by 113 seats to 73,918, which was down from the 74,031-seat capacity in 1999 but up from the 72,700 in 1998. Home attendance has averaged over 75,000 fans for the past 28 years, as NU has ranked in the top six nationally in attendance for many years.

In the fall of 1922, a drive for $430,000 in stadium construction funds was undertaken by faculty, students, alumni and friends of the University of Nebraska. The quota was over subscribed. The stadium was named Memorial Stadium to honor all Nebraskans who served in the Civil and Spanish-American Wars; the 751 Nebraskans who died in World War I; the 3,839 in World War II; the 225 in Korea; and the 422 in Vietnam. Construction was completed in a few more than 90 working days and Memorial Stadium was dedicated on Oct. 20, 1923, at the Homecoming game in which Nebraska was held to a scoreless tie by Kansas.

Inscribed on the four corners of the stadium are the following words, written by former UNL professor of philosophy Hartley Burr Alexander:

Southeast: "In Commendation of the men of Nebraska who served and fell in the Nations Wars."

Southwest: "Not the victory but the action; Not the goal but the game; In the deed the glory."

Northwest: "Courage; Generosity; Fairness; Honor; In these are the true awards of manly sport."

Northeast: "Their Lives they held their countrys trust; They kept its faith; They died its heroes."

As part of the continuing improvement of athletic facilities at the University of Nebraska, several major projects have been completed throughout the past 77 years enhancing the facility. The $1 million Hewit Center training table/study hall area was opened in March of 1985, underneath the West Stadium adjacent to the massive new strength complex. The weight room and the Hewit Center were expanded and remodeled in 1989. The artificial turf was replaced again in 1992.

In 1994, Nebraska installed two 17-foot-high by 23-foot-wide replay boards, known to Nebraska faithful as HuskerVision screens.

Following the 1997 season, construction began on a $36-million improvement project which was completed during the 1999 season. Included in the improvements are the addition of the Don Bryant Media Facility and 42 skyboxes, each of which house 25 spectators on game day. In addition, club seating rose from approximately 350 to 1,500 per game. The improvement project also tripled the number of restrooms on both sides of the stadium, doubled the number of concessions in both East and West concourses and included concrete repair and waterproofing throughout the stadium. The renovations raised the capacity of Memorial Stadium from 72,700 to 73,918. It is also noted that the original four inscriptions remained visible for generations to come. The 1999 season also marked the debut of a new artificial surface called FieldTurf, making Nebraska the first Division I program to use the new surface.

Seventy-Eight Years In Memorial Stadium

Nebraska football teams for the past 78 years have been glad to call Memorial Stadium home. Evidence for this is a 323-99-13 (.757) record posted by the Huskers in their home since it was opened in 1923.

Under the Lights

Nebraska's first night football game was Nov. 30, 1951, at Miami's Orange Bowl when the Huskers lost to the Miami Hurricanes, 19-7. Ironically, Nebraska's first night football game at home was the 1986 opener against another team from the "Sunshine State," Florida State. Nebraska is 43-14-3 all time under the lights, including 9-1-0 at home.

Memorial Stadium as it appeared in 1931, just eight years after the original construction of the facility. The project required $430,000 in funding.

The finishing touches of the latest Memorial Stadium improvement project were applied over the summer of 1999.

Memorial Stadium's newest renovations include a new press box and 42 skyboxes, accommodating more than 200 media members on game day.

Memorial Stadium/Tom Osborne Field Landmarks in History

Here is the chronological order of Memorial Stadium expansion and improvement from the original 31,000-seat structure built in 1923:

- 1946--Completion of Schulte Field House at north end of stadium (construction began in 1941, but was interrupted by World War II).
- 1964--South end zone section installed, making the stadium a horseshoe, raising capacity to the 48,000 mark.
- 1965--Center portion of north end zone section added, raising capacity to more than 53,000.
- 1966--Both wings of the north end zone added, raising capacity to more than 65,000 and making Memorial Stadium into a bowl.
- 1967--New press box, with guest section added, providing a beautiful and practical press facility.
- 1970--Installation of AstroTurf.
- 1972--South end zone extended, 9,400 seats added, raising capacity to 73,650.
- 1973--Athletic office building completed, housing dressing and training facilities for varsity football.
- 1977--Installation of new AstroTurf replacing the 1970 turf, and a new scoreboard over the north stadium.
- 1980--Completed top deck of press box for additional photo and visiting radio TV space.
- 1981--New west stadium weight room and new visitor's locker room in Schulte Field House.
- 1982--Expansion of Schulte Field House indoor practice area.
- 1984--New artificial All-Pro Turf playing surface installed.
- 1985--Completion of Hewit Center (dining area/study hall) in West Stadium.
- 1989--Expansion of strength complex and Hewit Center.
- 1992--New AstroTurf-8 artificial turf installed.
- 1994--Installation of Mitsubishi Instant Replay boards and remodeling of Section 14 to accommodate disabled, reduced seating to 72,700.
- 1995--South Stadium training room remodeled and new interview room and player lounge completed during season.
- 1997--Groundbreaking began on a $36-million stadium improvement project to take place over a two-year period. East concourse was renovated with new restrooms and concessions and stadium lights were installed on the east side.
- 1998--Stadium was rededicated on April 24, and the football field was named in honor of Hall of Fame Coach Tom Osborne, who retired as the winningest active coach in college football, with a 255-49-3 career record. Lights installed on the west side.
- 1999--Stadium Improvement project completed, including 42 skyboxes, a club seating area, stadium view lounge, new press box and renovated concourses, concessions and restrooms. Seating raised to 74,056. FieldTurf installed in August, making Nebraska the first Division-I collegiate program to use the synthetic surface.
- 2000--Increased club seating reduces capacity to 73,918.
- 2001--Expansion of team meeting room in lower South Stadium.

Husker Soccer

Following its fifth consecutive trip to the NCAA Tournament's Sweet 16 in 2000, the Nebraska soccer team will take the field this fall with its sights set on the 2001 NCAA

Christine Latham
Junior forward

Women's College Cup.

With a record of 22-2-0, the 2000 Husker squad finished ninth in the final NSCAA Top 25 Poll. NU claimed both the Big 12 regular-season and tournament titles for the second straight year en route to its fifth consecutive top-10 finish.

"We felt we were a contender for the national title all year," Nebraska Head Coach John Walker said. "I think in the last few years, we've established ourselves as one of the top teams in the country. We're happy with that, but at the same time, our goal here is to try to win the national title."

Though the Huskers lose All-American defender Jenny Benson, the school's all-time assist leader, and All-America goalkeeper Karina LeBlanc, who finished the season ranked second nationally with a 0.40 goals-against average, NU returns its top eight point scorers.

Leading the way for the Husker offense is junior forward Christine Latham, who earned All-America and Big 12 Player-of-the-Year honors in 2000 after scoring 57 points on 23 goals and 11 assists – the second-best offensive output in Husker history.

"She is powerful, aggressive, skillful and hard working," Walker said. "She'll just continue to refine her game."

The Huskers' second-leading point scorer in 2000, midfielder Meghan Anderson returns on pace to become Nebraska's all-time leading scorer. Anderson scored 39 points last season to up her career total to 112 points, which ranks behind Lindsay Eddleman's 127 points.

Anderson and forward Kelly Rheem both finished the 2000 season with a team-high 15 assists. Rheem, who scored 25 points last year, joins Anderson as one of six seniors on the 2001 Husker squad. Other seniors include: Becky Preson and Najah Williams, both offensive threats who could see action at defender this season; Shannon Tanaka, who scored 12 points as a midfielder in 2000; and Danica Carey, who notched eight points as a forward in 2000.

Junior Kori Saunders, an all-conference selection in 2000, will be another physical offensive threat for Nebraska.

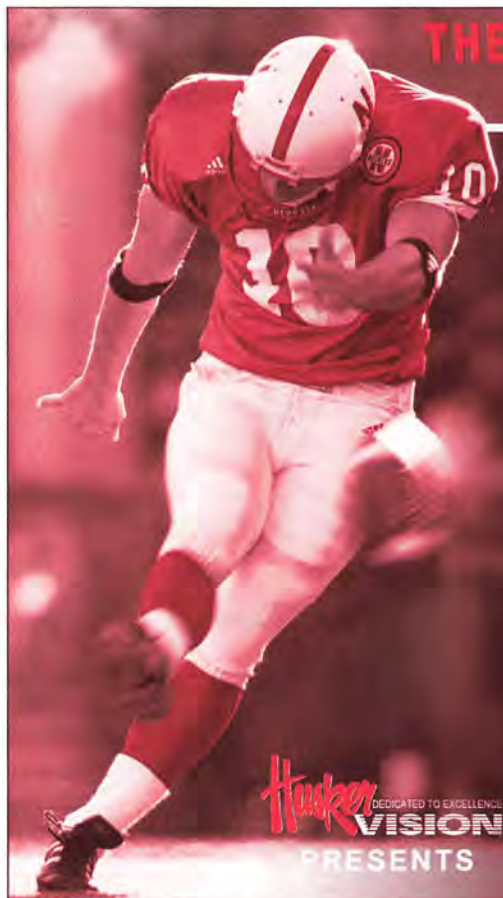

Anchoring the Husker defense will be junior Breanna Boyd, who returns as NU's most experienced defender. In goal, junior Leah Lamale and sophomore Erin Miller, who split playing time this spring, will look to fill the shoes of the departed LeBlanc.

Husker Men's Cross Country

Even without the services of All-Midwest performers Marcus Witter and Aaron Carrizales, who finished their cross country careers last season, Coach Jay Dirksen is still optimistic about his team's chances of securing a second straight NCAA berth.

Ian Gray
Junior

"The big question is, 'Who are our front runners and how high can they run?'" Dirksen said. "There are a lot of questions, but there's also a lot of depth - probably the most depth that we've had in many years. We have a lot of people who could improve significantly from where they were last year."

Dirksen has assembled a squad that includes 10 athletes with collegiate experience, including five who helped Nebraska to a 26th-place finish at the 2000 national meet.

Several runners could make a charge for the top spot, including team captain Ian Gray. Last season, injuries prevented Gray from building a strong base, but he's healthy again and according to Dirksen, the Eugene, Ore., native could easily be one of the Huskers' top runners. Junior Jed Barta has also battled injuries throughout his collegiate career, but when healthy, he could be among Nebraska's best.

Junior Mike Kamm, who was a solid third runner last season, and sophomores Eric Rasmussen, Paul Wilson, and Kyle Wyatt will all play important roles in Nebraska's success. Also back is sophomore Hunter Kosman, who redshirted last season because of injuries.

The Huskers will also be bolstered by the addition of several experienced newcomers, led by James Bowler, who represented Great Britain in the 1,500 meters at the Under-23 European Championships in July, where he finished 10th.

Joining Bowler is Omaha native Dana Carne, a transfer from Colorado State, and Jared Carlson, who returns to Nebraska after spending the last year on a church mission.

Dirksen also attracted several strong in-state recruits, including Kearney grad Luke Garringer, the 2001 Nebraska cross country champion, and Lincoln native Scott Wandzilak, who finished second to Garringer in the 3,200-meter run at the state track meet.

A strong local contingent of runners could also break into the top 10. Marc Clinard, a transfer from Nebraska Wesleyan, Joseph Young, who redshirted last season, freshman Joe Shreve and Wandzilak were all teammates at Lincoln Southeast High School. Rounding out the squad is Wyoming native Tim Williams, a product of Laramie High School.

Husker Women's Cross Country

After a disappointing season in which the team failed to qualify for the national championships for the first time since 1995, the Nebraska women's cross country team is poised to improve on its seventh-place conference finish.

Jenna Lucas
Senior

Unlike the men's team, the 2001 NU women will have to rely on a relatively inexperienced squad, as only five members have competed at the Division I level.

"We're really short on depth and numbers," Coach Jay Dirksen said. "We need everybody healthy, and we'll have to make strides throughout the season if we want to be competitive."

A key contributor will be captain Jenna Lucas, the lone senior on the roster. Lucas was consistently among Nebraska's top five runners last season, but it will be her leadership abilities the team will rely on most.

"She's the person we're counting on for leadership," Dirksen said. "I think this should easily be her best cross country season."

Junior Kathryn Handrup, the only team member to have competed at an NCAA meet, will also be vital to the team's success. But she may not be up to full speed until midway through the season, as she has battled stress fractures in the offseason.

Sophomore Ann Gaffigan, who Dirksen believes is one of the top runners in the conference, had a strong freshman year and continued to make strides during the track season. After a solid summer of training, Gaffigan will likely be the Huskers' lead runner.

In Morgan Hartman, Dirksen sees a runner who could move up in the Husker lineup. After showing great promise in high school, Hartman missed much of last season with stress fractures. She is healthy again and could produce a solid season.

Junior Melissa Drozda is another Husker who has battled injuries, but when healthy, she could be among NU's top seven runners. Competing in both the conference and regional meets in 2000, sophomore Hillary Laird could also see marked improvement in her second season.

Dirksen has also added a couple of freshmen to the team, including South Sioux City, Neb., native Anne Shadle, a three-time Class B Nebraska state cross country champion. Another Nebraska native, Michele Steube, could also help the Huskers this season.

Although she has been sidelined with injuries as of late, Steube's competitive drive could help her crack Nebraska's top seven.

In addition, Imperial, Neb., native Monica Barger returns to her home state for her junior season after competing at Colby Community College.

Husker Women's Golf

The Nebraska women's golf team enters the 2001-02 campaign with a bit of an unexpected void to fill.

Catha Fogelberg
Senior

Sarah Sasse, the school's first ever two-time NCAA participant, will sit out this season to alter her swing.

"Sarah's ultimate goal is to play golf professionally," Head Coach Robin Krapfl said. "In order to do that, she probably needs to pick up 20-30 yards in length."

Amanda Sutcliffe
Senior

One of the most celebrated junior golfers in Nebraska history, Sasse finished a disappointing 72nd at the NCAA championships last season.

According to Krapfl, the Lincoln High product brings her club too far inside on her backswing, which results in not allowing her to get through the ball as efficiently as she needs to.

"It sounds like a minor change, but when her swing is so grooved, it's just going to take time," Krapfl said. "She just needs to take the time, make the change and get it established. The only way to do that is to redshirt."

Expected to step in at the top of the lineup are seniors Amanda Sutcliffe and Catha Fogelberg.

A native of Gunnedah, New South Wales, Australia, Sutcliffe ranked third on the team last season with a stroke average of 78.05. Her top performance came at the Alltel Invitational where she finished tied for third.

Fogelberg competed in NU's top five in every meet last season, finishing the year with a 79.41 stroke average. The Helsingborg, Sweden, native notched her first career win last season with a one-stroke victory at the Texas Challenge.

"I know both of them want to go out in style," Krapfl said. "They do need to step up, because we are not going to have Sarah's score that we can count on. So it's going to need to come from Amanda and Catha."

Also returning from last season's squad are junior Amanda Krane and sophomore Stephanie Schaefer, who were part-time starters last year.

In addition, a group of five incoming freshman (Beth Anne Cherry, Chelsea Gehring, Merynn Ito, Stephanie Ruiz, Sara Sackett) will all have the opportunity to make a significant impact on the team this season.

"Obviously, when you have five freshman joining the team and you are redshirting your best player, there are a lot of unknowns," Krapfl said. "But if all of the pieces fall into place, we're going to have an outstanding team."

Husker Women's Bowling

The Nebraska women's bowling team had a rocky start to the 2000-2001 season with two international recruits unable to compete during the first half of the campaign.

Shannon Pluhowsky
Sophomore

But the rough start didn't slow the Huskers for long, as NU went on to win its fourth national title in seven years.

"The team had some momentary instability at the beginning, but buckled down during training in pursuit of the national title," Bowling Head Coach Bill Straub said.

Diandra Hyman
Senior

The 2001-2002 season looks to be just as promising for the Husker bowlers. Nebraska will continue to develop further as a team and will have an excellent squad returning in the fall with all of its starters back from last year, Straub said.

"The bowling program is blessed with outstanding student-athletes. The walk-on program continues to flourish, and we will combine that with a terrific returning squad," said Straub of the upcoming season.

Sophomore Shannon Pluhowsky will lead the way for the Huskers after an outstanding freshman campaign in which she was named the 2001 IBC Championships MVP and Rookie-of-the-Year. Pluhowsky also earned NCBCA Women's Collegiate Bowler of the Year honors last season. Pluhowsky set a college bowling record by winning her first five tournaments in 2000-2001.

Fellow NCBCA First-Team All-American Diandra Hyman also returns for the Huskers. Hyman, the Women's Collegiate Bowler of the Year as a sophomore, earned honorable-mention honors as a junior.

Also returning will be senior Christine Couvillon and junior Kari Schwager, who both joined Hyman on the NCBCA Academic All-American team last season. Other returning letterwinners will include senior Paola Gomez, and sophomores Christina Perez and Suzanne Medwell.

The Huskers' season will begin in Topeka, Kan., at the Mid-States Tournament. Nebraska will enter as the tournament's defending champion.

A competitive schedule will lead up to the IBC Sectionals March, 23-24, in Tulsa Okla., and the IBC Championships, April 17-21, in Buffalo, N.Y.

"Our program is heading into this season with high expectations and a resolve to work hard to reach the ultimate goal, another national title," Straub said.

Husker Women's Gymnastics

At first glance, the Nebraska women's gymnastics team looks hard pressed to duplicate its feats from last season, one of its most successful in school history – a season

Laura Goss
Senior

that saw the team earn a third straight berth to the NCAA Super Six Finals, capture a second consecutive NCAA South Central Regional title and reclaim the Big 12 title.

But one look at the 2002 roster reveals that Nebraska is not a team to overlook.

Although still a relatively young squad with only one senior on the roster, 11 of the 12 members have valuable postseason experience. The Huskers return nine gymnasts who combined to perform 23 of the team's 24 routines at the 2001 NCAA Super Six Finals, including six who earned All-America honors.

The veteran on the team, senior Laura Goss seems poised for a breakout season. A contributor on vault and beam, Goss will be counted on to lead the Huskers in 2002.

However it may be the Huskers' five-member junior class of Bree Dority O'Callaghan, Jen French, Julie Houk, A.J. Lamb and Jess Wertz that determines just how far Nebraska will climb. Its members have won four All-America honors, five Big 12 titles and 10 All-Big 12 awards.

O'Callaghan, an All-American and two-time Big 12 champion, became the first gymnast in school history to record a 10.0 on the uneven bars and could challenge for national honors on three events this season.

Lamb, a Lincoln native, could also be a force on the national scene. After battling back injuries that limited her to two events last season, Lamb is quickly returning to the form that earned her All-America honors as a freshman.

Houk, the only Husker on the roster to earn All-America honors each of the last two years, could again contend for a national title on the uneven bars, while French, who earned second-team All-America honors on the balance beam, will be a key contributor on three events.

Meanwhile, Wertz also achieved perfection last season, scoring a 10.0 on vault at the Arizona State Invitational before winning the Big 12 title on the event.

With a year of collegiate experience behind them, Nebraska's sophomore class will look to build on an impressive freshman campaign that saw three members compete in the NCAA individual event finals.

Among those is Alecia Ingram, who swept the Big 12 Gymnast and Newcomer-of-the-Year awards in 2001, in addition to earning All-America honors on the uneven bars and all-around.

In addition, Tami Harris was a force for the Huskers last season, as she tied for sixth with Ingram on the uneven bars at the NCAA individual event finals.

A mainstay in Nebraska's vault lineup, sophomore All-American Gina Bruce, who qualified for the NCAA vault finals as a freshman, is also capable of stepping in and contributing on all four events, while sophomore Libby Landgraf, an All-Big 12 performer on floor, will help solidify Nebraska's vault, bars and beam lineups.

Husker fans will also see two new faces in the lineup. Freshman Carrie Gloudemans (Neenah, Wis.) and sophomore Richelle Simpson, a transfer from Penn State, will also sport the scarlet and cream this season. Both are expected to come in and contribute immediately.

Nebraska will face a tough home schedule that includes the Masters Classic and Big 12 Championships. The Bob Devaney Sports Center is also the site of the 2003 NCAA Championships.

Husker Men's Gymnastics

Nebraska's men's Gymnastics team enters the 2001-02 season with a fresh influx of talent along with the benefit of several experienced veterans.

The Huskers say goodbye to former NCAA All-Around Champion Jason Hardabura, who will stay on as a graduate assistant coach. However, Head Coach Francis Allen is excited about the depth of his 33rd team at the University of Nebraska.

Martin Fournier
Senior

"I feel like there is a lot of potential among this group of men," Allen said. "We are going to be young, but we will have a full complement of extremely talented people, and that is something we have been missing."

Providing needed leadership this season will be Martin Fournier. The senior from St. Hubert, Quebec, qualified for the NCAA Championships a year ago on the parallel bars. Fournier is also considered the Huskers' top all-around performer. Jeff Kelly also returns for his final season. He is expected to specialize on the still rings.

"I am expecting a good year from these kids who have been a part of this program," said Allen. "Fournier will be a senior and this should be a year where he can finish in the top 10 in the all-around at the NCAA Championships."

Last season, Fournier posted the team's top score on the high bar, a 9.0 at the Air Force/UC-Santa Barbara triangular, while compiling a 51.35 in the all-around. Kelly's top score in 2001 was an 8.75 on the still rings.

NU also returns sophomores Steven Friedman and Josh Rasile. Both will compete in the all-around for the Huskers.

Friedman's top all-around score last season was a 50.85. He also tallied the Huskers' top score on the still rings, a 9.05. Rasile posted a 9.2 on the vault last season, tying for the team's top mark.

"We will have three guys in Fournier, Friedman and Rasile who will do the all-around," said Allen. "We have a solid group of veterans. Throw in a couple of the freshman, and we are going to have a great team."

Four newcomers will join the Husker squad this fall, including the highly regarded Mace Patterson of Bart Connor's Gymnastics in Norman, Okla., and Karl Nessi of Horizons Gymnastics in Chico, Calif. Patterson will compete in the all-around competition and is very strong in the pommel horse. Allen considers Nessi an extremely acrobatic freshman who is a little raw but has huge potential.

"We are really excited about these young guys," said Allen. "They are tough. It is also nice to have these guys come in during the fall so we get a chance to get them ready for competition."

Two talented walkons will provide depth for the Huskers in 2002. Josh Koopman and Adam Tietze are expected to compete for time in the rotation. Koopman trained at Triad Gymnastics in Ankeny, Iowa, while Tietze is a native of Houston, Texas.

"As we recruited these guys and watched them in their home gyms, it was very exciting for the future," said Allen. "During the final part of the last couple of seasons, we had our hands tied because of injuries. Now, we have that full complement of gymnasts, and we will be strong."

"The additions we have made this year give us a very good nucleus for building a national championship team."

Husker Wrestling

Despite losing a senior class that's credentials included nine individual NCAA appearances, six All-America honors and a national title, Mark Manning's Nebraska wrestling team has reloaded and is ready to fill the void.

Bryan Snyder
Senior

Manning, who will be head coach for the U.S. National Freestyle Team at the World Freestyle Championships in New York City Sept. 25-29, returns five starters from a team that posted an 11-6 dual record and finished eighth at NCAAs.

Leading the charge this season will be senior captain Bryan Snyder. A native of Easton, Pa., Snyder is on pace to become the first wrestler in NU history to notch four conference individual crowns and four All-America honors.

"The thing with Bryan is we don't have to expect a lot out of him," Manning said. "He expects a lot out of himself with the demands and standards he has established."

Snyder, who owns a school-best career winning percentage of .912 (103-10), advanced to the 157-pound title match last season, but came up short with a 3-2 loss in double overtime to Iowa's T.J. Williams.

At 125 pounds, sophomore Jason Powell will look to redeem himself after going 0-2 in his first NCAA Championship last season. The Midwest City, Okla., native entered the tournament fresh off a Big 12 title which gave him the No. 4 seed.

"I believe Jason has really matured and understands the importance of making each opportunity count," Manning said. "He has gained some much-needed strength which will really help him in a competitive weight class."

NU's third returning NCAA qualifier is senior Tony Denke. Although he was slowed by a nagging shoulder injury, Denke managed a third-place finish at the Big 12 Championships before going 1-2 at nationals.

"Tony had a bad shoulder injury last season, but has really rehabbed well after the surgery," Manning said. "He is really looking forward to his last year and we're excited about him breaking through."

Sophomore Joe Malia (133 pounds) and freshmen Travis Pascoe (184 pounds), Justin Ruiz (197 pounds) and Travis Schufelt (149 pounds) are all expected to make an impact in NU's lineup after redshirt seasons.

"The thing with those four is that they are inexperienced on a national level," Manning said. "So our job is to get them to perform consistently week in and week out."

Other projected starters include sophomore Dusty Spaulding (141 pounds), redshirt freshman George Kirgan (174 pounds) and junior Pat Miron (Heavyweight).

Husker Rifle

Despite the loss of All-American Nicole Allaire, who transferred to West Virginia to be closer to home, Nebraska rifle Coach Karen Anthony is optimistic about the 2001-02 rifle season.

Amanda Trujillo
Junior

"I am looking forward to this season," Anthony said. "We certainly have some work to do, but we now have the increasing maturity of a team that is in its fourth season."

For the first time in the program's history, the team will feature five athletes with collegiate experience. Two members of the inaugural team, Terim Richards and Rachel Spiry, are seniors this season and will be counted on to lead the squad.

Richards, who has twice qualified for the NCAA individual air rifle competition, will again challenge for the top spot on the air rifle team, while Spiry could contribute with both rifles.

In addition, junior All-American Amanda Trujillo has her sights set on becoming the second national champion in school history.

Last season Trujillo finished second in the individual air rifle competition, missing out on the title on the basis of center shots.

The Huskers also return the services of two sophomores in Melissa Downsborough and Karen Aspden. Downsborough, who made the transition to collegiate shooting rather quickly, was one of Nebraska's top shooters last season and could challenge Trujillo for the top spot on the smallbore team.

Although Aspden struggled her freshman season after switching from being a right-handed shooter, she now has a year of experience shooting left-handed and could be among NU's top four competitors.

The Huskers will also be bolstered by the addition of freshman Alicia Sawyer and sophomore walk-on Laura Johnson.

Sawyer, who hails from Andover, Minn., is familiar with high-level competition. She competed at the 2001 National Junior Olympics in late March and could contribute immediately. Meanwhile Johnson, a Wahoo, Neb., native is in her second year at the university, but she did not compete as a freshman. Although lacking in experience, Johnson could provide needed depth.

With three competitors with national championship experience leading the team, Anthony again expects Nebraska to be among the top teams in the nation.

"I think our skill level is comparable to what it was last season, but now we have more competitive experience and a higher maturity level," Anthony said. "These women really do have superb attitudes about doing the work it takes to move this team forward."

Husker Men's Golf

A new era of men's golf at Nebraska begins this season as Bill Spangler will take over the reigns of the program.

Bill Spangler
Head Coach

Spangler, who spent seven seasons as an assistant coach under Nebraska women's golf coach Robin Krapfl, replaces Larry Romjue, who retired in June after 31 years as Nebraska's head men's coach.

Jim Troy
Junior

Spangler said he was excited about his new position and was eager to start the 2001-02 season as just the 12th men's golf coach in the program's 66-year history.

"I'm so excited that I can't put it into words," Spangler said. "It's not only a dream come true to play for a great coach like Larry Romjue, but to follow in his footsteps as a coach. It is a great opportunity and a chance to work with one of the best golf programs in the country.

"I really look forward to the opportunity to recruit the best young golfers in the state and convince them that Nebraska is the best place for them to continue as collegiate players."

One of the top amateur golfers in the state, Spangler earned men's golf letters under Romjue at Nebraska in 1984 and 1985 after playing at Arizona State from 1980 to 1982. Spangler helped the Huskers to a third-place conference finish in 1985.

Spangler earned Nebraska Amateur Player-of-the-Year honors in 1987 and 2000 and is an eight-time United States Golf Association Tournament qualifier. He is a two-time Lincoln City champion, a two-time Michelob Amateur champion, a Nebraska State Match Play champion and a Nebraska State Junior Match Play champion.

As an assistant women's golf coach at NU, Spangler's primary responsibilities included recruiting, fundraising and assisting with daily practices. During his time with the women's golf team, the Huskers posted the best season in school history with a 19th-place finish at the NCAA Championships in 2000.

In addition to adapting to a new coach, the team will have to compete this year without the help of senior Seth Porter. After leading the team as the sole upperclassman for the past two seasons, Porter will likely redshirt this year, leaving the team to an inexperienced group of juniors.

"I know they're working extremely hard, and they want to have a good fall season," Spangler said. "Our team will be a little bit inexperienced with no seniors, so we will have to work hard and gain experience day by day."

Junior Jim Troy will play a key role in leading the team this season. The Illinois native joined Porter last season as the only Husker to compete in every round. Troy scored his best finish of the season with a tie for fourth place in the Stevinson Ranch Invitational, leading the team to a sixth-place finish.

Aiding Troy in the leadership role will be junior Blake Humbles, who competed well for the Huskers in a majority of the tournaments last season.

Although the squad gained experience and confidence in the 2000-01 season, Spangler notes that there is still much to be learned.

"Patience is a key because they've seen what kind of success can be achieved here," Spangler said. "We want to get back to that level, but we need to learn that process again slowly. We can't be in a rush to get there and become too anxious. Each and every player has had some good tournaments this summer and we just need to carry that into the fall."

Husker Women's Swimming and Diving

The Nebraska swimming and diving program begins a new era in 2001-02, as former U.S. Olympic gold medalist and 11-time NCAA champion Pablo Morales was named Nebraska women's swimming and diving head coach. The match was a perfect fit, NU Athletics Director Bill Byrne said.

Pablo Morales
Head Coach

"We are thrilled to have someone with the world-wide reputation of Pablo Morales as the new women's swimming coach at Nebraska," Byrne said.

"We are committed to offering outstanding opportunities to Nebraska student-athletes, and Pablo's addition is an excellent example of that commitment. He will fit well with the outstanding array of current Nebraska coaches."

Morales becomes the fifth women's swimming and diving head coach in school history. He takes over a Nebraska program rich in tradition, with 10 top-20 NCAA team finishes and 10 individual Olympians over the past 17 seasons.

"I'm happy and honored to assume the head coaching position for the women's swimming and diving program at the University of Nebraska," Morales said.

"It's an exciting decision for me and my family to make the move to Nebraska. What drew us to the program was the championship legacy of the University, not only in athletics, but specifically in the swimming and diving program. With the swimmers and the success they've had in the past, I definitely look forward to leading and building the program back to national prominence and the challenges of competing in the Big 12."

Nebraska's tradition is great, as the Huskers have had 10 Olympians since 1988, including eight in 1996. Penny Heyns has been an Olympian for South Africa in the past three Olympic Games, as she won two gold medals in Atlanta after winning the 100-yard breaststroke national title in 1996.

Morales is familiar with Olympic tradition, as he first won Olympic gold in Los Angeles in 1984 by helping the United States to a victory in the 400-meter medley relay. He added two silvers in the 100-meter butterfly and the 200-meter individual medley in Los Angeles. He set the world record in the 100-meter butterfly in 1986, which stood for 13 years before being broken at the 1999 NCAA Championships.

Morales returned to the pool after a three-year layoff from competitive swimming to win the gold medal in the 100-meter butterfly at the 1992 Olympics in Barcelona. In between his Olympic stints, Morales captured 11 NCAA individual event titles, the most by any individual in NCAA history. He also helped Stanford to three NCAA titles (1985, 1986, 1987) in men's swimming and two more in men's water polo.

Morales has spent the past three seasons as the head coach of the San Jose State women's swimming and diving team. He earned Western Athletic Conference Coach-of-the-Year honors in 2000. He also served as the associate head coach of the San Jose Aquatics club program from June 2000 until July 2001.

Before taking over the San Jose State women's program, Morales spent one season as an assistant coach with Stanford men's program in 1997-98. He also spent one season as an assistant with San Jose Aquatics in 1995-96 after serving as a graduate assistant coach of the Cornell men's and women's swimming teams during the 1989-90 and 1990-91 seasons.

Morales will take over a Husker program that is coming off a 23rd-place finish at the 2001 NCAA Championships and a third-place finish at the Big 12 Championships. The finish marked Nebraska's ninth straight top-25 finish at the national meet.

Husker Women's Tennis

After recording the most wins in school history a year ago, the Nebraska women's tennis team will now set its sights on achieving its first NCAA tournament berth in school history.

Amy Frisch
Senior

The Huskers have reason to believe that this is the season it will happen. Nebraska returns seven letterwinners from last season's 19-6 team that finished the year ranked No. 55 in the nation.

The biggest challenge facing the 2001-02 team is replacing departed senior Ndali Ijomah, who finished her Husker career with 67 wins. Leading the way for the Huskers will be a duo of seniors in Katarina Balan and Amy Frisch.

Balan is coming off of a solid season where she was 18-6 at the No. 2 singles spot. Balan has 65 wins in her career, which ranks fourth in school history. Frisch is coming off one of the best seasons in school history. The senior from Crescent, Ky., finished the spring season with a 20-6 record, giving her back-to-back 20-win campaigns.

Other returnees that will look to help the Huskers this season are Stacy Tomkiewicz, Leslie Harvey and Rebecca Harvey. Tomkiewicz, a doubles specialist, finished last season with a 11-4 doubles record. Harvey, the No. 1 singles player from a year ago, finished last season with a 7-11 record in her freshman campaign. Harvey posted a 6-3 singles record in limited action last season.

Sophomores Rose Ketmayura, Elissa Kinard and Katie Garcia, along with newcomer Gitte Ostermann, round out the squad. Ketmayura finished last season with a 14-2 record and Kinard added a mark of 14-5. All four players have the ability to contribute significantly.

Nebraska starts the fall season with the Western Michigan Invitational. Indiana, Marquette, DePaul, Ball State and Western Michigan make up the field along with the Huskers. After the Western Michigan Invitational, Nebraska participates in the National Hard Courts tournament before going to the Central Regional in Tulsa, Okla.

The spring season consists of non-conference matches against Wichita State, Denver, Southwest Missouri State, Wyoming, Virginia Tech, Colorado State, Northern Iowa, Creighton and Cal State Fullerton. Big 12 play begins on March 2 against Baylor, and the Big 12 Championships will be April 25 through April 28.

Husker Men's Tennis

The Nebraska men's tennis team enters the 2001-02 season with high hopes and great enthusiasm despite losing three of its four top players to graduation.

Lance Mills
Senior

The Huskers have just two seniors on the team this season, but for Coach Kerry McDermott, his 21st season at the helm of the Husker program is one he hopes will put NU back on track to the national spotlight.

"I'm optimistic that despite the fact that we have limited experience, we will have a hard work ethic as a team and will try to see improvement every match," McDermott said.

"If we see improvement like that each match, we will get where we want to go. But this season is going to be a test for us because of our limited experience, although many of our new players have solid experience in tournament play."

Leading the charge for the Huskers this season will be senior Lance Mills. Mills returns as the Huskers' top threat and will likely fight for the No. 1 singles slot. A native of Omaha, Neb., Mills was one of five Huskers to record at least 13 victories last season, as he went 13-12 on the year with an impressive 8-2 record at No. 2 singles.

Along with Mills, Nebraska return just two other experienced players in senior Fungai Tongoona and sophomore Patrick Kennedy.

Tongoona has been one of NU's top doubles players the past two seasons and will hopefully contribute more in singles action this year. A native of Harare, Zimbabwe, Tongoona can play the No. 4 or 5 singles and was part of the No. 1 doubles tandem for most of last season.

Along with Tongoona, Kennedy is the only other player to have seen action for the Huskers last season. A true freshman in 2001, Kennedy played in just nine singles matches – all at the No. 6 singles slot – in his first year, but hopes to make significant strides this season.

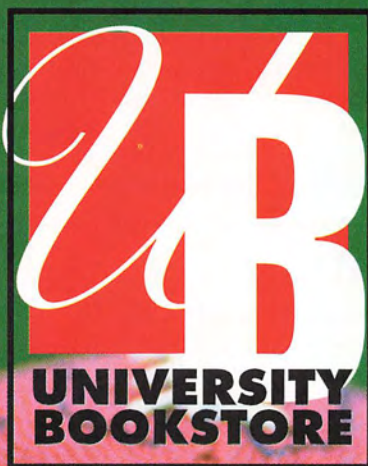

Mills, Kennedy and Tongoona will be joined by redshirt freshmen Jose Angel Rievera. He will be looking to produce positive results after spending one year in the program.

Among the newcomers joining the Huskers this year will be freshmen Joel Reckewey and Jose Hernan Gomez Lopez, along with transfers Jacek Wolicki and Jeff Nebity. The talented newcomers bring a wealth of experience and athleticism, and will look to make an impact early in their careers.

Bowl Championship Series Information

Starting in 1998, the Bowl Championship Series (BCS) determined the Division I-A National Champion in football. In the BCS's first season, Tennessee defeated Florida State, 23-16, in the Fiesta Bowl to claim the national title. Last year, it was Oklahoma who stopped the Seminoles, 13-2, to earn its seventh national title in school history.

The BCS Series consists of the Rose Bowl, Sugar Bowl, Orange Bowl and the Fiesta Bowl. Conferences with automatic berths include the Atlantic Coast, Big East, Big Ten, Big 12, Pac-10 and the Southeastern Conferences.

At the conclusion of the 2001 regular season, the Rose Bowl will host the National Championship contest. The game will be played on Jan. 3 at 7 p.m. in Pasadena, Calif. The Rose Bowl shall select the top two teams ranked in the BCS final regular season standings.

In January 2000, BCS members voted to extend the BCS agreement with ABC through the 2005 regular season and 2006 bowl season, allowing each of the four bowls to host two national championship games.

The BCS also notes the importance of regional consideration regarding team selection. Specifically, as a member of the BCS, the Rose Bowl will host the Big Ten and Pac-10 champions in those years in which either the Rose Bowl does not have the national championship game or the Big Ten and Pac-10 champion is not ranked No. 1 or No. 2. Other "regional consideration" tie-ins include the SEC champion in the Sugar Bowl, the ACC or Big East champion in the Orange Bowl and the Big 12 champion in the Fiesta Bowl.

Any Division I-A independent team or the champion of any Division I-A conference which is ranked sixth or higher in the BCS standings will also be eligible for the Bowl Championship Series.

A year ago, over 1.2 million fans attended college football's 23 bowl games. This season, there will be 25 post-season bowl games, from the 88th Annual Rose Bowl (Jan. 3) to the first-year New Orleans Bowl (Dec. 18) at the Louisiana Superdome in New Orleans, La.

Other BCS games following the 2001 regular season include the Fiesta Bowl on Jan. 1 at 4 p.m., Sugar Bowl on Jan. 1 at 7:30 p.m. and the Orange Bowl on Jan. 2 at 7 p.m.

{ HUSKERS IN THE PROS }

NFL PIPELINE

N

Nebraska's student-athletes are not only prepared for every college opportunity, but for life after the University as well.

Nebraska consistently beats the odds by sending more than the national average to the pros. Nebraska tied for the Big 12 lead last year with 33 former Huskers active in the NFL.

Grant Wistrom, Nebraska's fourth Lombardi Award winner, was a defensive leader on the 2000 Super Bowl Champion St. Louis Rams. Wistrom tied for 13th in the NFL last season with 11 sacks. In 1999, he returned two interceptions for touchdowns.

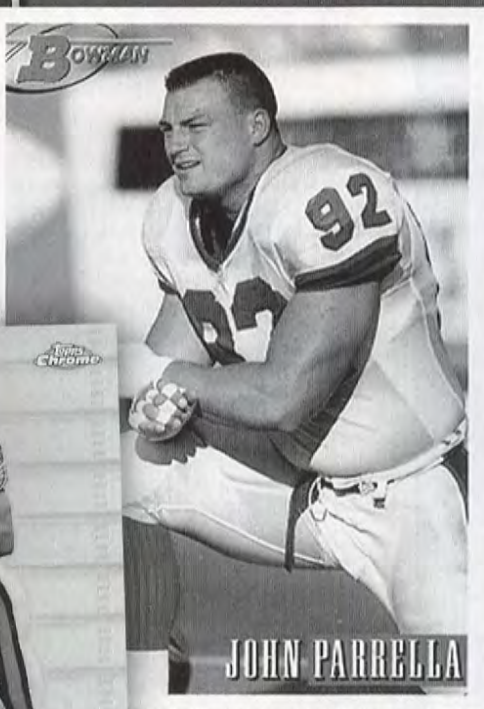

Husker NFL Facts

- ▶ In the Bob Devaney, Tom Osborne and Frank Solich era, NU has had 249 players drafted, an average of 6.4 per year.
- ▶ Nebraska is 11th on the NFL's all-time first-round draft list with 30, including 11 first-round selections in the last 15 drafts.
- ▶ Kyle Vanden Bosch and Dominic Raiola were both selected in the first two rounds of the 2001 NFL Draft.
- ▶ In addition to the numerous ball carriers and interior linemen NU has provided to the NFL in the last 12 years, the Huskers have had 21 receivers drafted or signed as free agents, and 16 defensive backs have been selected in the last nine drafts.
- ▶ Nebraska led the Big 12 with seven players drafted in the 2001 NFL Draft.
- ▶ In the last 30 years, 44 Husker offensive linemen have been chosen in the NFL Draft.

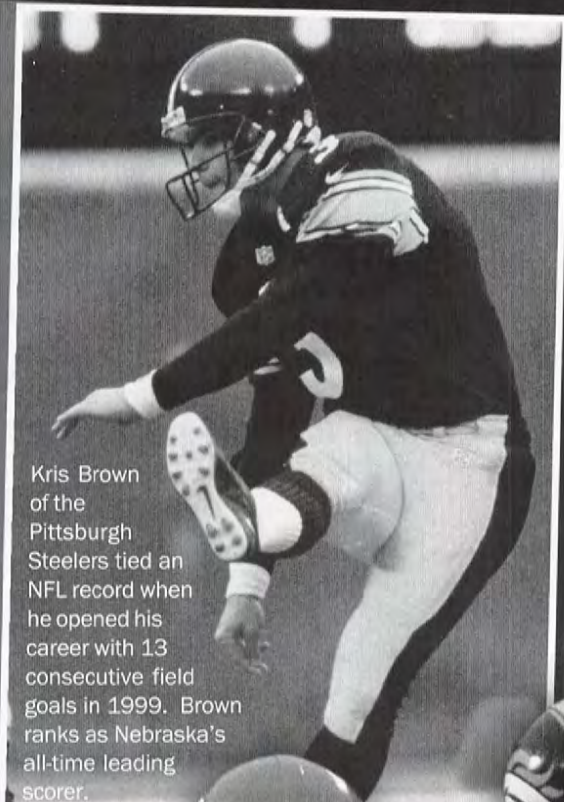

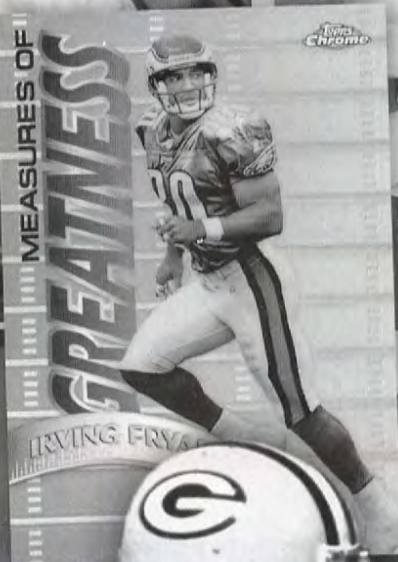

Ahman Green (above) found new life in Green Bay and had a breakout year in 2000, rushing for 1,175 yards and scoring 10 touchdowns. Mike Brown (left) was named to the NFL All-Rookie Team after leading the Bears' secondary with 102 tackles in 2000.

"Choosing to go to school at Nebraska has had the biggest impact on my life, more than any other life decision. Not only did I get a chance to play football for the best team in the nation, but for four years I was surrounded by academic advisors, coaches and teachers who genuinely cared about me as a person." -- Super Bowl Champion Grant Wistrom Former Huskers Mike Minter, John Parrella and Irving Fryar have all experienced NFL success. Fryar finished his pro career with more than 13,500 receiving yards and 84 touchdowns.

Kris Brown of the Pittsburgh Steelers tied an NFL record when he opened his career with 13 consecutive field goals in 1999. Brown ranks as Nebraska's all-time leading scorer.

NATIONAL POWERS

N

One of the nation's premier athletic programs, Nebraska is dedicated to and successful in all 23 of its varsity sports. Nebraska finished 13th in the Sears Director's Cup Standings, its sixth consecutive top-15 finish. Under the leadership of Director of Athletics Bill Byrne, Nebraska continues to build on its tradition with each season. Nebraska claimed two team national titles last season and has won 20 team national titles since 1970.

The Nebraska football team, winner of five national titles since 1970, finished the 2000 season ranked eighth, following a 66-17 rout of 18th-ranked Northwestern in the Alamo Bowl. It marked the 32nd straight year Nebraska has won at least nine games.

The men's and women's track and field team each claimed Big 12 indoor titles, led by Lesley Owusu's (left) league record in the 600.

The 2000 Nebraska volleyball team became just the second squad in collegiate history to complete a national championship season undefeated. The Huskers went 34-0 and defeated Wisconsin in five games for the NCAA title.

"I can't go without saying how impressed I am by the Nebraska fan base. Whether it be for women's volleyball or football, there's nothing like the Big Red.

-- President George W. Bush

The Nebraska women's bowling team claimed its fourth national title in six years after defeating Arizona State in the final with a 192.2 average.

Athletic Notes

- ▶ Eleven of NU's 23 athletic teams earned top 20 national finishes in 2000-01.
- ▶ Nebraska's athletic teams took home conference titles in baseball, soccer, volleyball, women's gymnastics, softball and men's and women's indoor track. In addition the baseball and soccer teams each won a Big 12 Tournament title.

The Husker baseball team advanced to the 2001 College World Series in Omaha for the first time in school history. Nebraska claimed both the Big 12 regular season and tournament crowns en route to finishing the season 50-16 and ranked sixth.

Nebraska N-Club

Re-energized under the auspices of the Nebraska Alumni Association in 1998, the Nebraska N-Club now boasts a membership of more than 1,200 out of 4,200 eligible former Husker letterwinners.

Each year, members enjoy several gatherings throughout the year. Among the events for members are pregame football events at home and traveling to an away football game, along with volleyball and women's basketball receptions and games at the Bob Devaney Sports Center. Also included is a tent reception and luncheon before the annual Red-White spring football game. In addition to these activities, members receive a membership card that allows free admission to all NU athletic events (excluding football, men's basketball and volleyball), an N-Club cap and an "Iron N" lapel pin.

Annual dues are $35 and life and couple memberships are available. For more information on the Nebraska N-Club, contact Ed Morrow, assistant director of alumni relations, at (402) 472-4223 or (888) 353-1874, or e-mail him at: emorrow@unlalum.uneb.edu.

Current officers of the N-Club are: Al Larson, President; Stephanie Bolli, Vice President; Don Erway, Secretary; Charles Greene, Treasurer; Steve Glenn, Past President; and Moon Mullen, Chairman Emeritus. Directors of the N-Club are: Paul Amen, Don Bryant, Mark Forster, Mark Gokie, Shellie Hegge Gomes, Paul Meyers, Micky Mott, Shandi Pettine Petersen, Mark Puev, Kris Rutford, Tom Ruud, Fran ten Benschel, "Bus" Whitehead, Kathy DeBoer Wiskamp and Charles Wright.

Husker Wheel Club

Automobile Dealers in Nebraska are contributing a large measure of help to the University of Nebraska athletic program through the loan of courtesy cars. Like other programs which are a part of the Cornhusker booster group activities, this project enables the Nebraska Athletic Department to make greater use of its funds. These sports-minded dealers around the state have earned a debt of gratitude from the University of Nebraska Athletic Department. They are an important part of the "team," which includes players, coaches, administration, faculty, staff, students, alumni, the Husker Educational Award group, the Husker Athletic Fund and the courtesy car program.

A sports tradition for Huskers!

Barry's

BAR & GRILL

9th & Q, Lincoln, Neb.

Barry's has been a fixture for Nebraska fans to celebrate the greatest Husker sports milestones. Let's cheer the Huskers on to a great season!

Open 11 a.m. to 1 a.m.
Grill open 11 a.m. to 10 p.m.

Do not try to adjust your glasses and don't squint too hard. The small type at the bottom of an ad usually is some nonsense about MSRP, the actual interest rate is about 34% and the warranty only applies to those people who live in another solar system. This small type offers none of that kind of silliness that most people don't read. This small type is actually prepared by famous psychiatrists who have found that those who read this will enjoy this day and feel as though they have never been closer to friends and family. The people who make it this far will have a peaceful calm about them and find that their IQ actually jumped 15 points every time they read through it. Eventually, you will become so smart, you'll be able to plant this advertisement in the heads of those around you by mental telepathy. It's a new Barry's advertisement revolution.

Senior Lineman Helps Huskers Any Way He Can

by Adam Froemming

Senior offensive lineman Jon Rutherford isn't shy when discussing the Nebraska football team's goals for the 2001 season.

"We want to go to Pasadena," Rutherford said. "All of our other goals will come true if we get there."

Jon Rutherford

And a national championship isn't the only goal of the Huskers this year, Rutherford said. The team also wants to be sound both on and off the field.

"Academics are a big part of our goals,"

Rutherford said. "That is something that they really stress here, and something that is important, too."

Rutherford is prepared to give his best effort to help NU reach both goals. His play has been a key part of the offense the past two seasons. Despite suffering a season-ending knee injury last year, Rutherford has seen playing time at all five offensive line positions.

"(Being versatile) has helped me see more playing time," Rutherford said. "Having experience at all of the positions, where ever the coaches decide to put me, I will know the position."

Rutherford missed the last three games of the 2000 season after tearing his left anterior cruciate ligament in the Kansas game Nov. 4. But the 6-foot-3, 300-pound, Midwest City, Okla., native learned from sitting out.

"It was tough," Rutherford said of missing three games. "A lot of times when you are at practice, you don't want to be there. But it taught me a lot of patience, and it helped to know that I had one more year left to play."

A two-time Big 12 commissioner's honor roll selection, Rutherford saw action in nine games during the 2000 season despite his late-season injury. He recorded 30 pancakes, good for sixth on the team, including a career-best six in the season opener versus San Jose State and against Missouri. Rutherford helped the Huskers rush for 349.3 yards per game, which led the nation for the sixth time in the past nine years and 14th time in history.

During his sophomore year, he played in every game, including the Fiesta Bowl as a backup left tackle behind senior starter Adam Julch. Rutherford also saw action as a member of the Husker PAT and special teams. He recorded 14 pancakes on the season, with a season-high four coming against California.

As a redshirt freshman, Rutherford played in four games, recording three pancakes, with all of them coming against Kansas.

Looking back on his time spent at Nebraska, Rutherford treasures the relationships the most.

"I have had a good time with football," Rutherford said. "But the most important thing is the relationships I have made with the coaches and the players."

Rutherford, who was selected as a member of the 2001 Unity Council, has also volunteered for the teammates program as well as for Dads of Kids with Disabilities.

Serving the community with his time has been something that Rutherford has enjoyed.

"You can see how the kids look up to you,"

Rutherford said. "I've had to be a role model, and just tried to be a positive influence for the kids, just letting them know that they have someone that they can talk to."

Whether off or on the field, giving his best effort is the most important thing, said.

"That's all I ask of myself," Rutherford said. "It doesn't matter whether you start or not. You have to give 100 percent and not take a play off."

The Rutherford File

Position: Offensive line
Height: 6-3
Weight: 300

Class: Senior (Three Letters)
Hometown: Midwest City, Okla.
High School: Midwest City

Career Honors:

- ▶ 1999 Big 12 Commissioner's Spring Academic Honor Roll
- ▶ 2000 Big 12 Commissioner's Fall Academic Honor Roll
- ▶ 2001 Unity Council Member
- ▶ Mentor in the Teammates program

Noting Rutherford:

Rutherford played in the first nine games of the 2000 season before tearing his left ACL versus Kansas. Prior to his injury, Rutherford had played a critical role in the Husker offense, as he saw playing time at all five positions. Despite missing the last three games of the season, he finished sixth on the team with 30 pancake blocks, recording a career-high six on two occasions (vs. San Jose State and Missouri).

Songs of the University of Nebraska

The Alma Mater

Refrain:

Nebraska, Nebraska
We pledge you our true loyalty
Nebraska, Nebraska
A good life for you and for me.

Verse 1

We have scarlet and cream as our colors
And we wear them proudly to our games
For the Pride of the Cornhusker legend
And for the school that we cherish to remain.

Refrain

Verse 2

Here to learn for an undiscovered future
And to build from a classical past
We are proud of our dear Alma Mater
We'll support her to help her always last.

Refrain

Verse 3

When the moon shone bright on the colors,
And those memories make you say,
When we kissed on that night at the columns
And the sun shone bright on Ivy Day.

Refrain

Where the girls are the fairest,
The boys are the squarest,
Of any old place that you know.
There is no place like Nebraska.
Where they're all true blue,
We'll all stick together in all kinds of weather,
For dear old Nebraska U.

Hail Varsity

Hail to the team,
The stadium rings as everyone sings,
The scarlet and cream.
Cheer on for victory
Echo your loyalty,
So on mighty men,
The eyes of the land,
Upon every hand are looking at you.
Fight on to victory,
Hail the men of Nebraska U.

The Official Field Song for Nebraska

Come a runnin' boys,
Don't you hear that noise
Like the thunder in the skies.
How it rolls along
In the good old song,
For the sons of Nebraska.
Now its coming near with a rising cheer
That will sweep all foes away.
So, with all our vim,
We will fight to win,
And we're going to win today.

Chorus

For Nebraska and the Scarlet,
For Nebraska and the Cream,
Tho they go through many a battle,
Our colors are still seen.
So in contest and in victory,
We will wave then for the team,
And 'twill always stir a Cornhusker,
The Old Scarlet and Cream.

There Is No Place Like Nebraska

There is no place like Nebraska,
Dear old Nebraska U.

Nebraska Athletic Endowments

Rewarding the hard-working student-athlete

The Brook Berringer Memorial Scholarship

The Brook Berringer Memorial Scholarship was endowed in memory of former Nebraska quarterback Brook Berringer, who died in a plane crash on April 18, 1996. Berringer was the epitome of a backup quarterback--patient, but always prepared, both mentally and physically, to take over when needed.

Berringer served as Tommie Frazier's backup in 1994 until the starter's season ended because of blood clots. With poise and grace, Berringer calmly led Nebraska to eight consecutive victories and to the national championship game against Miami in the Orange Bowl.

An excellent student, Berringer graduated in December 1995 with a degree in business administration. He was expected to be selected in the 1996 NFL Draft on April 20-21, possibly as the fifth or sixth quarterback chosen, but did not get to live out his dream.

The Husker football program has established an award in his honor called the "Brook Berringer Citizenship Team."

The endowment was established by a benefit concert given on Aug. 27, 1997, by the members of the country singing group Sawyer Brown, who were friends of Brook Berringer.

Nebraska student-athletes who continued with graduate school received more than $102,500 in postgraduate scholarship money in 2000. NU football players accounted for $61,000 of that total.

The Devaney Society

The University of Nebraska Athletic Endowment Program was established to ensure the quality of student-athletes who will represent the University in the future. In the past, Nebraska has been able to attract some of the best, brightest and most dedicated individuals to its academic classrooms and athletic programs by providing them with scholarships funded through athletic department revenue. To help offset the rising costs of supporting quality student-athletes, the Nebraska

Compliance Guidelines for NU Boosters

The University of Nebraska Athletic Department takes great pride in abiding by the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) and the Big 12 Conference rules and guidelines that govern Division I competition. For the benefit of the many alumni, fans and booster club members who are so active in supporting and assisting the Huskers throughout the year, we would like to remind everyone of a few definitions and rules that apply to all athletic representatives and boosters.

NCAA Principles

Institutional Control

It is the responsibility of the University of Nebraska to control its intercollegiate athletic program in compliance with the rules and regulations of the NCAA.

Responsibility

The University of Nebraska's responsibility for the conduct of its program includes responsibility for the actions of its staff members and for the actions of any other individual, booster or organization engaged in activities promoting the athletic interests of the institution.

Compliance

The University of Nebraska must monitor its program to assure compliance and to identify and report to the NCAA instances in which compliance has not been achieved. An institution found to have violated NCAA rules is subject to disciplinary and corrective actions as determined by the NCAA.

NCAA Definitions

Athletic Representative/Booster

You are considered to be a University of Nebraska athletic representative if you:

- ▶ Are a present or past member of a University of Nebraska booster club or agency that promotes the Huskers' intercollegiate athletic program;
- ▶ Have made financial contributions to the athletic department or to an athletic booster organization of the University of Nebraska;
- ▶ Are, or have been, providing benefits (e.g., summer jobs, meals etc.) to enrolled student-athletes, their family members or friends;
- ▶ Are, or have been involved in any manner of promoting the University of Nebraska intercollegiate athletic program.

Please note: Once an individual is identified as an athletic representative, that person retains that identity indefinitely. The University of Nebraska is ultimately responsible for the acts of all "representatives of athletic interests" in relation to NCAA rules and regulations.

Prospective Student-Athlete

A prospective student-athlete is a student who has started classes for the ninth grade or above, including students in prep schools and junior colleges as well as students who have officially withdrawn from a four-year institution and plan to transfer to another institution. In addition, a student who has not started classes for the ninth grade becomes a prospective student-athlete if the institution or a booster provides the individual or the individual's relatives or friends with any financial assistance or benefits that the institution does not provide to prospective students in general. A good rule of thumb is to treat ALL STUDENTS as prospects.

Student-Athlete

A student-athlete is a student whose enrollment was solicited by a member of the athletic staff or other representative of athletic interests with a view toward the student's ultimate participation in the intercollegiate athletic program.

Contact

A contact is any face-to-face encounter between a prospect, or the prospect's parent or legal guardian, and an institutional staff member or athletic representative during which any dialogue occurs.

Recruiting

Recruiting is any solicitation of a prospect or a prospect's family member (or guardian) by an institutional staff member or by athletic representative of the institution, for the purpose of securing the prospect's enrollment and ultimate participation in the institution's intercollegiate athletic program.

Guidelines and Reminders for Boosters

- ▶ A booster may not contact the prospect, prospect's coach, principal or counselor in an attempt to evaluate or recruit the prospect.
- ▶ A booster may not expend funds to entertain or provide transportation for a prospective student-athlete, family members or friends.
- ▶ A booster may not become directly or indirectly involved in making arrangements for a prospect, or the prospect's relative or friends to receive money or financial aid of any kind.
- ▶ A booster may not contact a prospective student-athlete through letter writing, telephone calling or other forms of communication.

However, here are a few ways that a Husker Booster may be involved:

- ▶ Do discuss summer employment opportunities with a prospect after he/she has signed a National Letter of Intent with the University of Nebraska.
- ▶ Do attend high school athletic events without contacting prospective student-athletes.
- ▶ Do continue existing friendships with families and friends of prospective student-athletes.
- ▶ Do send recommendation letters, newspaper clipping or similar information about prospective student-athletes to Husker coaches.

Extra Benefit Guidelines and Reminders for Boosters

Extra Benefit

An extra benefit is any special arrangement by an institutional employee or an athletic representative to provide a student-athlete or the student-athlete's relative or friend a benefit not expressly authorized by NCAA legislation.

Boosters may not provide any special arrangement considered to be an extra benefit by NCAA definition. Examples of extra benefits include but are not limited to:

- ▶ Providing cash or loans of any amount;
- ▶ Signing or co-signing for a loan or other forms of financial assistance;
- ▶ Providing the use of a telephone to make local or long distance calls;
- ▶ Transporting a student-athlete or providing the use of a vehicle;
- ▶ Providing free or reduced rent housing;
- ▶ Giving gifts of any kind (i.e. birthday, Christmas, Valentine's Day);
- ▶ Promising a student-athlete postgraduate education or employment;
- ▶ Offering free services (i.e. clothing, airline tickets, laundry, car repair, haircuts, restaurant meals);
- ▶ Providing payment to a student-athlete for a booster club speaking engagement;
- ▶ Providing employment for relatives or friends.

Here are a few ways that a Husker booster may help:

- ▶ Do invite a student-athlete to participate in non-profit, charitable or educational events.
- ▶ Do invite a student-athlete into your home for an occasional meal.
- ▶ Do contact the NU Athletic Compliance Office for approval prior to a student-athlete engaging in outside speaking or promotional activities.
- ▶ Do pay a student-athlete the commensurate rate for actual and legitimate employment.

For further information regarding NCAA Guidelines for Athletic Representatives, please contact the Athletic Compliance Office at (402) 472-2042 or 1-(800) 927-7220. Inquiries may also be mailed to the Athletic Compliance Office at 300 West Stadium, P.O. Box 880219, Lincoln, NE 68588-0219, faxed to (402) 472-4609 or emailed at compliance@huskers.unl.edu.

Big 12 Championship Game

Since the formation of the Big 12 Conference in 1996, the league's final football contest has been the Dr. Pepper Big 12 Championship game, pitting the winners of the North and South divisions. During that span, the winner of the title game has gone on to earn at least a share of the national title on two occasions (Nebraska, 1997; Oklahoma, 2000).

In the five years since its inception, the South division has taken the Big 12 title three times, while the Huskers have won both of the North's titles. Nebraska, which has played in three of the five championship games, is the only team to win the title twice in the league's short history, taking league crowns in 1997 and 1999.

Nebraska's 54-15 victory over Texas A&M in the 1997 contest saw the Huskers gain a title game-record 536 yards of total offense, as I-back Ahman Green rushed 34 times for 179 yards and three touchdowns. NU's Scott Frost also rushed for 79 yards and two touchdowns, while the Husker Blackshirts held the Aggies to just 13 yards rushing as a team. With the victory, Nebraska earned a berth in the FedEx Orange Bowl, where the Huskers won a share of their third national title in four years by defeating Tennessee, 42-17.

The Huskers reached their third Big 12 title game in four years, when they defeated Texas, 22-6, in the 1999 championship. The game was dominated by defense, as the Blackshirts held the Texas offense without a touchdown for the first time since 1985. NU outgained the Longhorns 289-178 in total offense, with Correll Buckhalter rushing for 136 yards and Eric Crouch gaining 72 yards with two touchdowns.

The title game has been played in three different sites in its first five years. The 1996, 1998 and 1999 contests were all held at the TWA Dome in St. Louis, home of the NFL's St. Louis Rams. The 1997 game, which saw Nebraska win its first title, was held in the Alamodome in San Antonio, Texas, the same site where Nebraska crushed Northwestern, 66-17, in the 2000 Alamo Bowl. Last year's championship tilt was in the Kansas City Chiefs' home, Arrowhead Stadium.

This year's contest will mark the fourth venue utilized by the league. The conference champion will be crowned in Texas Stadium on Dec. 1 at 7 p.m., and will be carried live on ABC.

The glittering showcase of Dallas Cowboys football is Texas Stadium, a state-of-the-art facility which opened on Oct. 24, 1971. Located in the Dallas suburb of Irving, Texas Stadium has a seating capacity of 65,675 and features two DiamondVision color replay screens, 381 luxury suites, three sports bars, 52 concession stands, 40 specialty stands, 86 restrooms, 115 drinking fountains and 130 acres of parking.

Texas Stadium's most unique feature is the partial roof which covers fans from inclement weather, but allows the game to remain outdoors. The stadium also boasts the luxurious Stadium Club, one of Dallas' premier locations for private parties, banquets and convention gatherings.

The stadium will play host to the 2001 Big 12 Championship game, which will take place on Dec. 1 at 7 p.m., and will be televised live on ABC.

The Pinnacle Sports Radio Network

Pinnacle Sports Productions begins its sixth year of producing and marketing the live broadcasts of the University of Nebraska football, men's and women's basketball, volleyball, baseball and softball games. Pinnacle was first awarded the broadcast rights on Feb. 9, 1996. The University renewed the Pinnacle Contract in May, 2000, for an additional five-year term to begin Aug. 1, 2001, and to end July 31, 2006. Pinnacle Sports Productions is owned by Paul Aaron of Elkhorn, Neb., and Dale Jensen of Phoenix, Ariz.

Pinnacle Sports Productions heads up a large network of state and national affiliates, allowing Husker games to be heard nationwide. In 2001, KFAB (1110 AM) and KROC (93.3 FM) are the Omaha affiliates and KLIN (1400 AM) and KFGE (98.1 FM) are the Lincoln affiliates. Pinnacle Sports has put together a 57-station network, including 38 in-state stations covering 15 states. Games can also be heard on the internet at Huskers.com.

Criteria used in evaluating bids included guaranteed annual fees; confidence in the bidder's ability to realize such fees; ability to put together a network; additional proposed programming; availability of a viable radio production facility and personnel; coverage of women's sports; other sports coverage committed; airwave coverage of the state of Nebraska and key out-of-state locations; and willingness and ability to promote NU in all areas, including non-athletic concerns.

The Pinnacle Broadcast Team

Veteran sportscaster Warren Swain begins his sixth year as the play-by-play voice of Husker football and men's basketball. Swain has been in the radio sportscasting business for 33 years and was the radio voice of University of Virginia football, basketball and lacrosse from 1986 to 1996. His peers named him the Sportscaster of the Year for the state of Nebraska in 2001, making him the third person ever to win the award in four different states, having received the award as the "voice of the Oregon Ducks" in 1981, the "voice of the Iowa State Cyclones" in 1979 and six times as the "voice of the Virginia Cavaliers." Swain also received an Alumni Achievement Award at the Annual Alumni Dinner of the Drake University School of Journalism and Mass Communication in April of 2001. Swain also held play-by-play assignments at Hastings College. Growing up in the Midwest, Swain welcomed the opportunity to work with NU.

Play-by-Play

Adrian Fiala
Color

Former Husker Adrian Fiala is the color analyst for football broadcasts. Fiala played football (linebacker) and baseball (catcher) for the Huskers from 1967 to 1969. Fiala previously provided color commentary working with Ray Scott, Tim Moreland and Dick Perry. Since 1985, he has worked as an analyst the Omaha Golden Spikes game telecasts on the Nebraska ETV Network and on Cox cable. He has also done color commentary for the NU baseball team for 11 seasons.

For the second year, Dave Weber joins Swain and Fiala in the broadcast booth each week to add his comments and insights. Sideline reports are delivered by KLIN's Gary Sharp, who also handles the Sports Nightly Show for the network with John Bishop and Jeff Moats and is the voice of Husker baseball on the Pinnacle Sports Network. Former Husker Terry Connealy will also join the Pinnacle football broadcast this fall.

Husker Award Winners

College football's most prestigious award, the Heisman Memorial Trophy, is presented annually to the nation's outstanding player. The trophy was originally presented in 1935 as the DAC Trophy by the Downtown Athletic Club of New York City. That year, the honor went to the best college football player east of the Mississippi River. In 1936, players across the country became eligible and the award was renamed the Heisman Memorial Trophy to honor former college coach and DAC athletic director John W. Heisman, who died that year.

Two Huskers – Johnny Rodgers in 1972 and Mike Rozier in 1983 – have had the honor of receiving the award, which is voted on by 1,050 voters selected across the country.

Rodgers, an All-American wingback who still holds numerous school records, won the award following his senior season when he accounted for over 2,000 all-purpose yards and 17 touchdowns. He received 1,310 points, easily topping Oklahoma's Greg Pruitt (901) and fellow Husker Rich Glover (652).

Rozier became Nebraska's second Heisman winner after rushing for 2,148 yards and 29 touchdowns as a senior in 1983. Rozier, who helped the Huskers average over 50 points per game, received 1,801 points, finishing ahead of runner-up Steve Young of BYU (1,172) and Doug Flutie (235).

In addition to Rodgers and Rozier, a pair of Huskers have also finished second in the balloting – Sam Francis in 1936 and Tommie Frazier in 1995 – while 11 other Huskers have placed in the top 10 in their respective years.

Nebraska Top 10 Heisman Finishes

Name, Pos.	Finish	Year
Sam Francis, FB	Second	1936
Bobby Reynolds, HB	Fifth	1950
Wayne Meylan, MG	Ninth	1967
Jerry Tagge, QB	Seventh	1971
Johnny Rodgers, WB	First	1972

Turner Gill, QB	Fourth	1983
Lawrence Phillips, IB	Eighth	1994
Zach Wiegert, OT	Ninth	1994
Tommie Frazier, QB	Second	1995

Between the two of them, Johnny Rodgers (left) and Mike Rozier collected four Consensus All-America honors and two Heisman Trophies.

In its 112 years of storied existence, the Nebraska football program has seen numerous team and individual accomplishments. From national championships to Heisman Trophy award winners, the Huskers have one of just a few programs in the country that annually see players contend for the top national awards. Here is a list of the national awards NU and its players have earned over the decades.

NCAA Top Eight Award

(NCAA's highest academic honor)

The highest honor the National Collegiate Athletic Association can bestow on a student-athlete is to honor the student-athlete with The Top Eight Award. The award is based not only on outstanding athletic accomplishments, but on excellent academic records and leadership ability in community and campus activities.

In 1997, the University of Nebraska had one of its student-athletes earn the Top Eight Award, as All-America rush end Grant Wistrom was honored at the NCAA honors dinner.

Wistrom's selection gave the Huskers nine Top Eight honorees in the 1990s. Two Cornhusker student-athletes received the award in both 1990 and 1991, the only times that a single university had more than one student-athlete honored. Nine of Nebraska's Top Eight picks were football players – and NU's other honorees came in volleyball (2) and men's gymnastics (2) – making the Husker grid program the most decorated in the country.

In the 1990s, six Husker football players were awarded the Top Eight honor, including Aaron Graham (1995), Rob Zatechka (1994), Trev Alberts (1993), Pat Tyrance (1991) and Jake Young (1990).

Academic All-Americans

The Nebraska football team has a rich tradition of academic excellence, as evidenced by the team's 58 academic All-Americans over the years. Nebraska leads the nation in Academic All-Americans for all sports with 181, nearly 50 more than the second-place school (Notre Dame, 134).

Rob Zatechka (left) and Grant Wistrom combined for four academic All-America honors and two NCAA Top Eight Awards.

HuskerVision: Enhancing Husker Fans' Excitement

Eight years ago, Nebraska Director of Athletics Bill Byrne had a vision, one that would make Memorial Stadium the first college football stadium in the country to have big-screen replay boards. Some people doubted that a college venue could make a project that big a reality, and they wondered if the screens would detract from the game itself.

However, when HuskerVision became a reality in 1994, Byrne's vision proved to be correct. The big-screen replay boards were an instant hit with the fans, enhancing their Husker gameday experience.

With its replay boards, the University of Nebraska became the first college football team in the country to have instant replay boards at a venue used exclusively for college athletics. The only other college stadiums that previously had boards available were those serving as homes to professional football teams.

The screens stand 17 feet high by 23 feet wide, (388 square feet), and each screen is formed by more than 90,000 lighting dots. These dots form 5,632 lighting elements, units and module cabinets through video processing electronics manufactured by Mitsubishi Electronics. The cost of the system is being paid entirely by commercial sponsorships.

In addition to the obvious advantage of being able to view replays and game action on two huge screens, HuskerVision has made several other changes to game day at Memorial Stadium.

First, the screens are the most important ingredient to one of the most dramatic team entrances in all of sports. Along with a 30,000-watt sound system, the replay boards help make "The Tunnel Walk" part of the atmosphere of Nebraska football.

HuskerVision's contributions to Memorial Stadium have not gone unnoticed by Nebraska fans. In a survey of season ticket holders, fans mentioned HuskerVision as one of the most worthwhile additions to Memorial Stadium in many years.

Like the Husker football team, the HuskerVision crew spends the week before a home game developing its own game plan. Starting on Sunday before a home game, the crew produces features for Saturday's game and spends much of the week preparing graphics, mug shots and other clips and features which appear on the boards throughout the game.

Game day is showtime for the HuskerVision crew. On a home Saturday, Director of HuskerVision Jeff Schmahl is in charge of eight control room personnel as well as five other members of the staff who are operating cameras on the field. Also operating in conjunction with much of HuskerVision's features is public address announcer Rich Schwieger as well as producer/directors Kirk Hartman, Michelle Glover, and Brandon Verzal and engineers Shot Kleen and Jon Barnett. Twenty-four University of Nebraska broadcast journalism students make up the majority of the HuskerVision staff.

The state-of-the-art Michael Grace Production Studio, located on the West Stadium Concourse, helps the HuskerVision crew produce more than 100 shows during the year.

In 1994, Memorial Stadium became the first collegiate football venue to have video replay boards.

HuskerVision is housed in the state-of-the-art Michael Grace Production Studio located on the concourse level of West Stadium. Made possible by a generous donation in honor of former football player and NU Foundation fund-raiser Michael Grace, this area includes office space to accommodate four full-time employees and a staff of interns and student assistants. In addition, a broadcast quality control room, a nonlinear editing room and a television production studio allow the HuskerVision staff to produce a multitude of video productions.

Last year, HuskerVision produced more than 100 television shows, including the Frank Solich Show, the Nebraska Football Kickoff Show and the coaches shows for men's and women's basketball, volleyball and the Olympic sports at Nebraska.

This season, The Frank Solich Show will be produced Saturday night after each game for a statewide broadcast on Sundays. In addition, The Husker Football Kickoff Show and Husker Volleyball Show will also be aired during the fall. During the basketball season, The Barry Collier and Paul Sanderford basketball shows will be broadcast on a state-wide basis. Throughout the year, the Husker Show, an Olympic sports magazine program, features many of Nebraska's 23 varsity programs.

HuskerVision's duties also include the production of highlight tapes for all 23 varsity sports. The HuskerVision crew has annually produced and marketed highlight tapes on the Nebraska football season. Over the past seven years, more than 100,000 tapes have been purchased by NU football fans. In 2001, HuskerVision received two major awards at the IDEA conference, one for "Best Overall Video Display" in the University division and one for "Best Music Video", beating out entries from all levels, including the NBA, NFL and Major League Baseball.

In 2000, HuskerVision expanded to the Bob Devaney Sports Center. Two giant replay boards were installed on the East and West upper ends of the Sports Center that gave Husker fans a chance to view replays, features and other entertaining elements. The Devaney Center HuskerVision boards are nearly the same size in terms of square footage as the screens in Memorial Stadium. The Devaney screens are among the largest indoor boards in the world, measuring 15 feet high and 26 feet wide, which makes their size compatible with the new HDTV wide-screen format. These wide-screen aspect ratio screens are part of a 162-foot wide display system on each end of the Devaney Center.

HuskerVision uses "cutting edge" technology to get its signal from the control room to the screens. The current control room in Memorial Stadium is used to send the signal to the Devaney Center screens. This is possible via fiber optic cable which allows multiple video and audio signals to travel long distances using this new technology.

Long known for having one of the best atmospheres in all of college football, Memorial Stadium has become an even better venue for fans with the addition of HuskerVision, making it one of the best stadiums in all of college football.

[TURNER'S GLASSES]

Turner Gill left his helmet and shoulder pads behind to become a coach, a husband, and a father. That left him with little time to worry about contacts or glasses. So Turner went to Sutton, Linder & Sutton and found out about the LASIK procedure. Turner went for it. And just one day after his painless surgery there was a new piece of equipment that he could retire—his glasses.

1970 National Champions - 11-0-1

Early in the 1970 season, Jerry Murtaugh predicted Nebraska would win the national championship. Murtaugh was a senior linebacker and co-captain who, in just three seasons, set the Cornhusker career record for tackles. A quarter of a century later, Murtaugh's mark still stands.

It was obvious that Murtaugh was capable of backing up whatever he said. In the case of the 1970 season was not without some justification. Nebraska had been 9-2 the previous season, winning its final seven games, including a decisive 45-6 victory against Georgia in the Sun Bowl.

After the Sun Bowl game, Georgia coach Vince Dooley said the Cornhuskers hadn't belonged in El Paso, Texas. They deserved better competition than his team could provide.

Still, 1970 was a new season. And though Nebraska had several starters returning, Murtaugh was one of just three defensive starters back. Dave Walline and Jim Anderson were the others.

Besides, winning a national championship wasn't something over which a team had complete control. It would depend not only on being successful, but also on the votes of writers in the Associated Press poll or coaches in the United Press International poll.

Two games into the season, Murtaugh's brash prediction became a longshot, at best. After opening with a 36-12 victory against Wake Forest, the ninth-ranked Cornhuskers played Southern California to a 21-21 tie at the LA Coliseum. The Trojans tied the score with 8:16 remaining, after a failed 12-yard field goal attempt, resulting from a poor center snap, kept Nebraska from putting the game away.

"We should have won the game," Johnny Rodgers said years later.

Rodgers was a sophomore in 1970, his first varsity season.

A tie at USC was certainly no disgrace. Coach John McKay's team was ranked No. 3. Nebraska even moved up in the next week's Associated Press poll. But No. 8 was still a long way from No. 1.

And the Cornhuskers' record had a blemish, no matter how slight.

Nebraska returned to Memorial Stadium to defeat Army 28-0 the next week, beginning what would be a 23-game winning streak and include not one but two national championships.

The Cornhuskers rolled through the Big Eight, moving up to No. 3 in the AP rankings after a 51-13 victory against No. 20 Kansas State in the next-to-last game of the regular season. Nebraska intercepted Wildcat quarterback Lynn Dickey a school-record seven times, and Cornhusker I-back Joe Orduna rushed for 105 yards and four touchdowns against what had been the conference's best defense.

Orduna, a senior who sat out the 1969 season as a medical redshirt, led Nebraska in rushing in 1970.

A week later, the Cornhuskers won the Big Eight championship outright by defeating Oklahoma 28-21 at Memorial Stadium. Though unranked, the young Sooners could have earned a share of the conference title with a victory. Nebraska had to come from behind twice during the game. Junior quarterback Jerry Tagge scored the winning touchdown, capping a 53-yard drive, with 7:42 remaining.

Nebraska finished 10-0-1, its first undefeated regular season since 1965, and ranked No. 3 in both wire service polls, behind two unbeaten and untied teams: No. 1 Texas and No. 2 Ohio State. The UPI didn't conduct a poll after bowl games, so Texas was its national champion for 1970.

The Cornhuskers were matched against No. 5 LSU in the Orange Bowl game on New Year's night. Texas played Notre Dame, which had been No. 1 until a late-season loss to USC, in a rematch of the previous year's Cotton Bowl. And Ohio State drew Stanford in the Rose Bowl.

Husker quarterback Jerry Tagge stretches the ball over the goal line for the winning touchdown in the Orange Bowl victory over Louisiana State.

Nebraska's hopes of earning the AP version of the national championship were slim. Both Texas and Ohio State would have to lose, and the Cornhuskers would have to win. But it happened.

Notre Dame upset Texas 24-11, and Stanford staged a fourth-quarter comeback to defeat Ohio State 27-17. Nebraska learned of the latter result during the Orange Bowl's pregame warmups.

The Cornhuskers appeared ready to seize their opportunity, jumping ahead of LSU 10-0 in the first 13 minutes of the Orange Bowl. But the Tigers controlled the ball during the second and third quarters, scoring on a 31-yard pass on the final play of the third quarter to take a 12-10 lead.

Nebraska responded by driving 67 yards for the winning touchdown, scored by Tagge from one yard away with 8:50 remaining. Junior linebacker Bob Terrio, a junior college transfer who had arrived at Nebraska as a fullback, preserved the victory by intercepting a Bert Jones pass with 45 seconds left.

Notre Dame Coach Ara Parseghian argued that his team should be the AP national champion because it had defeated top-ranked Texas. But Nebraska was a decisive No. 1 in the final AP poll. "I was afraid Ara's comments might influence the voters, but I guess the writers are too smart to take some coach's word," Cornhusker Coach Bob Devaney said. "The writers knew who was best."

Nebraska also received a national championship endorsement from President Richard Nixon, who proclaimed the Cornhuskers No. 1, to the delight of 8,000 at the NU Coliseum, on Jan. 14, 1971. Co-captains Murtaugh and fullback Dan Schneiss joined Devaney alongside Nixon.

It was just as Murtaugh had predicted.

The Hard Road to Success

JIM PLUNKETT OVERCAME EARLY-LIFE OBSTACLES TO ACHIEVE SUCCESS DURING AND AFTER HIS PLAYING CAREER

Late last year, Jim Plunkett was in Atlanta giving a motivational speech about how people can overcome hardships and still be successful. About his own struggles and how he went from a boy on welfare, from the hard part of town, to Heisman Trophy winner, Super Bowl quarterback and successful businessman. As usual, he spoke to a rapt audience. Afterward, one of the audience members approached him, prepared to praise. But this wasn't the usual hero-worshipping sports fan.

The man said to me, 'Forget about football, it's everything else that is so amazing,'" Plunkett says.

Indeed, Plunkett's journey has been remarkable. The son of two blind parents, he was forced to negotiate a collection of troubles while still young that would overwhelm many an adult. He had his first job before he turned 10 years old. His father died when he was a collegiate junior, forcing him and his sisters to support his mother. Yet, he persisted, succeeded and thrived.

Plunkett went to Stanford because it was close to his home in San Jose. He redshirted his first season there and could have graduated following his junior year, grabbed the NFL paycheck and helped his family, but Plunkett declined. He and his classmates wanted to lead the Indians (Stanford changed its nickname to "The Cardinal" in the 1980s) to the Rose Bowl. They did just that, avenging years of disappointing defeats at the hands of Southern California and advancing to Pasadena. Plunkett threw for 2,715 yards and 18 touchdowns and topped a first-rate field of Heisman competitors that included Notre Dame quarterback Joe Theismann and Mississippi idol Archie Manning. The dream season continued at the Rose Bowl, where Plunkett passed for 265 yards and a score in Stanford's 27-17 upset of mighty Ohio State.

"We just felt elation," Plunkett says of the season. "All our hard work had paid off. It was a tremendous feeling. We were a close-knit unit and became such good friends. We're still close."

Plunkett's initial foray into the NFL wasn't so happy. He was drafted first overall by the dreadful New England Patriots and could not turn the team around himself. Things soured for Plunkett after a Rookie of the Year season. He played later for the 49ers before landing in Oakland, which he led to a pair of Super Bowl triumphs. His 17-year NFL career might not have begun well, but it certainly ended right.

"When I got to the NFL and won the Rookie of the Year, I thought things were going to climb," Plunkett says. "But it was a bumpy road in the NFL. When I got to San Francisco, I wanted it to work, because I was back home. I finally hooked up with the Raiders, but I sat on the bench, and I thought my career was over. I got one last chance."

His post-playing days have been equally as impressive and rewarding. The overwhelming attention and criticism he received during his NFL playing days made him somewhat reclusive and reticent when it came to the media and public appearances, but that's no longer the case. Plunkett is a member of the Raiders' broadcast team and gives several motivational speeches to corporate groups each year. He owns and operates a successful beer distributorship and hosts a golf tournament every year to help raise money for athletic scholarships at Stanford. His success is a testament to his desire and ability to overcome hardship. He understands that.

"I did what I had to do when I was younger," Plunkett says. "The only time I thought about it was when I was older. I looked back and said, 'What terrific parents I had.' However did they manage? My wife and I had four good eyes and two kids, and it's still hard."

But not impossible. Jim Plunkett knows all about that. ■

1971 National Champions – 13-0

Nebraska's 1971 season came down to a single game at Owen Field in Norman, Okla., on Thanksgiving Day. At least, that's how it is most often remembered. The No. 1-ranked Cornhuskers played No. 2-ranked Oklahoma in what still is regularly regarded as college football's "Game of the Century."

The teams were undefeated and untied, and they included 17 of 22 first-team All-Big Eight players. Nebraska had the nation's top-ranked defense. Oklahoma had its most productive offense.

The cover of the issue (Nov. 22, 1971) of Sports Illustrated published the week of the game included photographs of Nebraska linebacker Bob Terrio and Oklahoma running back Greg Pruitt, nose-to-nose, beneath the headline: "Irresistible Oklahoma Meets Immovable Nebraska."

The game was equal to its buildup. Johnny Rodgers opened the scoring less than four minutes into the first quarter with a 72-yard punt return, and Rich Sanger finished it by kicking an extra point with 1:38 remaining, following a dramatic, 74-yard drive capped by Jeff Kinney's 2-yard run.

Rodgers' punt return is among the most memorable moments of the game. But he also made a key play to keep the winning touchdown drive alive, improvising on a pass route to get open on third-and-8, then making a diving catch of a Jerry Tagge pass for a 12-yard gain and a first down.

Middle guard Rich Glover, who made 22 tackles that afternoon, put the finishing touches on Nebraska's 35-31 victory, deflecting a Jack Mildren fourth-down pass with barely a minute left.

Except for the Oklahoma game, Nebraska was never seriously challenged in its quest to repeat as national champion. The Cornhuskers overwhelmed 12 other opponents, including Alabama in the Orange Bowl, to earn a place among the best teams in college football history.

Coach Bear Bryant's Crimson Tide went to Miami undefeated, untied and ranked No. 2. The Tide left a 38-6 loser, providing proper payback for Nebraska's 39-28 and 34-7 bowl losses to Alabama following the 1965 and 1966 seasons. The first of those losses, in the 1966 Orange Bowl game, cost Coach Bob Devaney's Cornhuskers a perfect season and probably a national championship.

Although Nebraska averaged what was then a school-record 437.7 yards on offense, including a Big Eight-leading 179.3 yards passing, and ranked third nationally in scoring, averaging 39.1 per game, it was defense that set apart the Cornhuskers — as the Sports Illustrated headline pointed out.

Nebraska ranked second in the nation in rushing defense (85.9), third in scoring defense (8.2) and fifth in total defense (202.9). The Cornhusker Blackshirts included seven first-team All-Big Eight selections, four players who would earn consensus All-America recognition during their careers and two Outland Trophy winners: Glover and tackle Larry Jacobson. Glover would win both the Outland and Lombardi awards in 1972. They were joined in the starting lineup by junior end Willie Harper, like Glover, a two-time All-American. John Dutton, an All-American in 1973, was a sophomore backup.

Besides Glover, Jacobson and Harper, the other first-team all-conference defenders were Terrio, Jim Anderson, Bill Kosch and Joe Blahak. Anderson, Kosch and Blahak played in the secondary.

Anderson and Tagge, one of five Cornhuskers on the All-Big Eight first-team offense, were the captains. Both were from West High School in Green Bay, Wis., as was starting monster back Dave Mason, a junior who had sat out the 1970 season as a medical redshirt.

The other first-team offensive players were Rodgers, Kinney, Carl Johnson and Dick Rupert.

The Husker defense was opportunistic as well as immovable, contributing to a school-record plus-26 turnovers. Nebraska recovered 20 opponents' fumbles and intercepted 27 passes.

Nebraska was No. 2 in the Associated Press preseason rankings but moved to No. 1 after opening with a 34-7 victory against Oregon at Memorial Stadium. Bobby Moore, now known as Ahmad Rashad, scored the Ducks' lone touchdown with just over three minutes remaining.

Only three opponents scored more than one touchdown against the Cornhuskers. Oklahoma State and Kansas State each managed two touchdowns, and Oklahoma, of course, scored four. The only time all season that NU even trailed during a game was against the Sooners.

The Cornhuskers opened conference play with back-to-back shutouts against Missouri (36-0) and Kansas (55-0), during a stretch in which they posted 12 consecutive scoreless quarters.

In addition to everything else, the Cornhuskers almost always had good field position because of the punt and kickoff returns of Rodgers, a key to their success, according to Tom Osborne, an assistant who designed and coordinated the offense.

"As great as that team was, take Johnny Rodgers out of there on kickoff and punt returns, and it probably wouldn't have gone 13-0," Osborne said.

Nebraska extended its winning streak to 23 games and its unbeaten streak to 32 games in 1971. Repeating as national champions "wasn't automatic," Rodgers said.

But going into the season, "we were pretty doggone confident."

1994 National Champions – 13-0

Byron Bennett's 45-yard field goal attempt sailed wide left in the final second of Nebraska's 18-16 loss to Florida State in the 1994 Orange Bowl game. With that miss, an 11-game Cornhusker winning streak ended. And the run to Coach Tom Osborne's first national championship began.

Nebraska's focus for the 1994 season was finishing the business that had been left incomplete on the night of Jan. 1, 1994, in Miami. The process started with a 31-0 victory against West Virginia in the Kickoff Classic in late August, and it concluded with a come-from-behind, 24-17 victory against Miami, on the Hurricanes' home field, in the 1995 Orange Bowl game. To a degree, that game characterized the season.

An important subplot to the drama of 1994 involved the Cornhusker quarterbacks. Junior Tommie Frazier, a two-year starter, opened the season as if he might run away with the Heisman Trophy before being sidelined by blood clot problems in his right knee after the fourth game.

Frazier's misfortune represented an opportunity for junior Brook Berringer, who came off the bench to lead Nebraska to the Big Eight championship and the Orange Bowl game. Berringer was 7-0 as a starter, passing for 1,295 yards (14th on Nebraska's all-time, single-season list) and 10 touchdowns, in what amounted to only eight full games. He threw just three passes in the first three games.

When Berringer was slowed by a partially collapsed lung, a problem that occurred in back-to-back games, sophomore walk-on Matt Turman stepped up and directed the Cornhuskers. Although Berringer had been cleared to play, Turman gained a 7-6 lead against Kansas State at Manhattan that ended 17-6.

Turman had come on to replace Berringer the previous week, directing Nebraska to 23 second-half points in a 32-3 victory against Oklahoma State in the Cornhuskers' Big Eight opener.

The quarterback sequence was somewhat similar in the Orange Bowl victory. Frazier, who had been included on the travel roster for the final regular-season game at Oklahoma (but did not play), started against Miami. Berringer replaced him and got Nebraska on the scoreboard in the second quarter, with a 19-yard touchdown pass to tight end Mark Gilman. Then Frazier returned to finish it and earn game MVP honors.

Nebraska trailed the Hurricanes 10-7 at halftime and fell behind 17-7 less than two minutes into the third quarter. But during the intermission, Osborne had described to the Cornhuskers the way the second half would go if they maintained their composure and continued to play smart physical Husker football. They did.

Afterward, Osborne's halftime speech was made public. It was eerily prophetic.

Even though Nebraska finished its business by going 13-0, it remained for voters in the Associated Press and USA Today/CNN polls to certify the Cornhuskers as national champions. Penn State also went through the season undefeated and untied at 12-0. The Nittany Lions argued to no avail.

Nebraska began the season ranked No. 4 by the Associated Press, moved to No. 1 after the Kickoff Classic, then inexplicably dropped to No. 2 following a 42-16 victory at Texas Tech. Sophomore safety Mike Minter suffered a season-ending knee injury during the game televised by ESPN.

In many ways, Minter was to the defense what Frazier was to the offense. His loss was significant; a fact underscored during an unexpectedly close, 42-32 victory against pass-happy Wyoming.

The Cornhuskers dropped to No. 3 in the AP poll after the Kansas State victory, before finally moving to No. 1 following the Colorado game. The Buffaloes came to Lincoln undefeated, untied and ranked No. 2 by the AP and No. 3 by USA Today/CNN. Nebraska was No. 2 according to the coaches. The Cornhuskers remained No. 2 in the USA Today/CNN rankings another week, before ascending to the top spot on the strength of a 45-17 victory over Kansas, despite a Penn State victory against Indiana.

Nebraska earned the voters' respect with an offense that featured one of the best lines in school history and a new 4-3 defense that allowed only 55 points in conference play. Led by linebacker Ed Stewart, a consensus All-American, the Cornhuskers ranked second in the nation in scoring defense, fourth in total defense and rushing defense and 10th in pass defense.

The offensive line included Outland Trophy winner Zach Wiegert at tackle. Along with winning the Outland, Wiegert was a consensus first-team All-American, while Brenden Stai earned All-America honors of his own at guard.

Rob Zatechka, the other tackle, was a four-time academic All-Big Eight selection who graduated with a perfect 4.0 grade-point average in biological sciences. Along with Joel Wilks, the other guard, and center Aaron Graham, the only non-senior among the starters, the group was nicknamed the "Pipeline."

Nebraska led the nation in rushing, with sophomore Lawrence Phillips gaining 1,722 yards, the second-highest single-season total in Cornhusker history. He finished eighth in the Heisman Trophy voting.

Phillips, Graham, Wiegert and Stai all earned first-team all-conference honors on offense. Stewart, Troy Dumas, Dontá Jones, Barron Miles and Tyrone Williams were All-Big Eight first-teamers on defense.

A crowd estimated at 14,000 to 15,000 stood in line and braved frigid temperatures for an opportunity to cheer the Cornhuskers at the Bob Devaney Sports Center on their return from Miami.

"We didn't just win this for ourselves, we won this for the whole state of Nebraska," Connealy said.

1995 National Champions - 12-0

Tom Osborne's 23rd Nebraska team was arguably his best. The 1995 Cornhuskers were among the best in college football history.

Though such a sweeping assertion cannot be proven, it can be supported. Nebraska's 1995 national championship team was No. 1 on a list of the top major college teams since 1956. The list was compiled by computer analyst Jeff Sagarin, whose rankings are regularly published in USA Today.

The 1971 Cornhuskers were No. 2 according to Sagarin's power ratings. Both were well ahead of the remaining 23 teams on the list, which also included the 1972 and 1970 Cornhuskers.

Nebraska was never seriously challenged in 1995, as it extended a school-record winning streak to 25 games and repeated as national champion — something that has been accomplished only eight other times since the Associated Press initiated its national college football rankings in 1936.

The closest any opponent could come to the Cornhuskers was 14 points. But even that was deceptive. Washington State trailed Nebraska 28-7 after three quarters, in the fifth game of the season. The Cornhuskers scored 20 points in the second quarter to overcome a 7-0 first quarter deficit.

After that, the outcome was never in serious doubt. The final score was 35-21.

Nebraska, which began the season ranked No. 2 by the Associated Press, didn't move to No. 1 until back-to-back victories against No. 8 Kansas State (49-25) and No. 7 Colorado (44-21). After completing a third consecutive undefeated and untied regular season and winning a fifth consecutive Big Eight championship, including four in a row outright, the Cornhuskers eliminated any doubt about their claim to a second consecutive national title by overwhelming No. 2 Florida, 62-24, in the Fiesta Bowl.

Despite the Cornhuskers' success, the 1995 season was one of mixed emotions, resulting from much-publicized off-the-field problems. "It was a terrible year, and it was a great year," Osborne said after the Fiesta Bowl. "It was taxing. On the other hand, it was very gratifying to work with a group of players who had the kind of focus and drive to carry them through. That was the redeeming factor."

"There were times I was running on empty. I take my spiritual life very seriously. I relied on my faith more than I ever have. I was grateful for the sustaining strength that was there."

The star-crossed nature of the 1995 team was further underscored in the spring, when Brook Berringer, a quarterback who had just completed his eligibility, died in the crash of a light plane.

Osborne again had to turn to his faith to handle the tragedy.

"The Brook I knew, there was nothing he could have done better," Osborne said. "The length (of his life) was not what you would have liked. But the quality couldn't have been better."

Berringer, who had stepped in for an injured Tommie Frazier during the 1994 national championship season, accepted his role without complaint and contributed as a proven backup in 1995.

Frazier, fully recovered from the blood clot problems that sidelined him much of his junior season, broke the Cornhusker career record for total offense (5,476) and touchdowns produced (79). He earned All-America recognition, finished second to Ohio State's Eddie George in balloting for the Heisman Trophy and received the most valuable player award in the Fiesta Bowl game.

Frazier, whose record in four years as a starter was 33-3, established himself among the best quarterbacks in Cornhusker history.

"I would say if I were to choose one player who has had the most impact on the outcome of the greatest number of games over the longest period of time since I've been at Nebraska, it would be Tommie Frazier," said Osborne, who began as a graduate assistant in 1962.

Under Frazier's direction, Nebraska's offense was even more productive than that of the "Scoring Explosion" team in 1983. The Cornhuskers ranked No. 1 in the nation in both rushing (399.8) and scoring (52.4) and No. 2 in total offense (556.3). The 1983 team was slightly better rushing the ball, averaging a school-record 401.7 yards, but it averaged slightly fewer points (52.0) and total yards (546.7).

Ahman Green, who began fall camp down the list on the depth chart, became the starting I-back and broke the school rushing record for a freshman. He gained 1,086 yards and scored 12 touchdowns.

Green would have broken the school scoring record for a freshman were it not for Kris Brown, the place-kicker. Brown, like Green a true freshman, scored 97 points — a school record for kicking.

In addition to Frazier, center Aaron Graham and outside linebacker Jared Tomich earned first-team All-America honors. Graham also was a Cornhusker co-captain, along with tight end Mark Gilman, defensive tackle Christian Peter, safety Tony Veland and linebacker Phil Ellis.

Tomich, a junior who originally walked on, was among five Blackshirts who received first-team All-Conference recognition. The other defensive players were Peter, linebacker Terrell Farley, rush end Grant Wistrom and cornerback Tyrone Williams. Frazier and Graham were joined on All-Big Eight first-team offenses by Green, tackle Eric Anderson and guards Chris Dishman and Aaron Taylor.

Rarely has college football seen such a team. Maybe never.

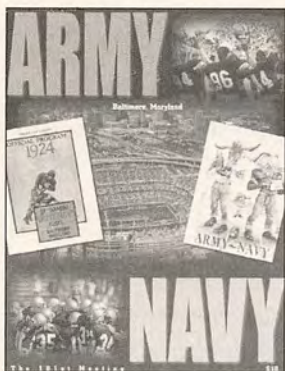

Quarterback Tommie Frazier directed Nebraska to back-to-back national titles, capped by a spectacular Fiesta Bowl performance.

1997 National Champions - 13-0

A pajama-clad Tom Osborne was packing for home in the early morning hours of Jan. 3, 1998, when he heard the news.

"By that time, I was wrung out enough that there wasn't much emotion left," he would say later that morning during a post-Orange Bowl game news conference.

His response to the news was typically low-key. "Naturally, I was very pleased, very gratified," he said.

The source of his pleasure had been the announcement on ESPN — the television set in his room at the Sheraton Bal Harbour on Miami Beach had been tuned to the network "by chance," he said — that his 25th and final team had been voted the USA Today/ESPN coaches' national champion.

The Cornhuskers, No. 2 going into the Orange Bowl game, had squeezed ahead of Michigan in the coaches' poll on the strength of their 42-17 victory against No. 3-ranked Tennessee. The Wolverines retained the top spot in the Associated Press media poll.

"Being a coach, I know a little bit how they think," said Osborne, who was among those with a vote in the USA Today/ESPN poll. "They probably looked at the fact we were 13-0, and to be unrewarded in some way would be... I don't mean to say an injustice. But it wouldn't be a good thing."

No major college football team has gone 13-0 and been deprived of a national title. On the other hand, Michigan argued, no No. 1 team had ever won its bowl game and been dropped from the top.

The split title seemed a reasonable solution. That was Cornhusker quarterback Scott Frost's point immediately after the decisive victory against Tennessee.

"I can't see how any coach outside of the Big Ten or Pac-10 would vote for Michigan because if somebody from North Carolina, Florida State, wherever it might be, Notre Dame, coaches from there, if they were undefeated and won the Alliance bowl game, they would expect to share the national title," the senior from Wood River, Neb., said on the field, in front of CBS television cameras.

"It's been split before. It's OK to split it. It should be split."

Frost was well-versed on national championship history. The title had been split nine times previously since the coaches' poll was established in 1950, most recently in 1990 and 1991.

Nebraska's first national championship in 1970 was split with Texas.

Cornhusker defensive tackle Jason Peter was less sharing than Frost.

"If you ask me, I don't think it should be a split title," he said after the Orange Bowl game. "I mean, we proved today that we're the best team in the country, without a doubt."

There probably wouldn't have been much doubt in anyone's mind had it not been for Nebraska's dramatic 45-38 overtime victory at Missouri in late October. The Cornhuskers traveled to Columbia with the No. 1 ranking in both polls but returned to Lincoln ranked No. 4.

That same weekend, Michigan went from No. 4 to No. 1 on the strength of a 34-8 victory against No. 2 Penn State, and Florida State, which subsequently lost to Florida, went from No. 3 to No. 2.

Michigan might have slammed the door on Nebraska's national championship aspirations with a more decisive victory against Washington State in the Rose Bowl game, but the door was open "at least a crack," Osborne told his team after it watched the Wolverines win 21-16 on New Year's Day.

Coaching the Cornhuskers to a third national championship in four seasons was a fitting conclusion to Osborne's Hall of Fame career. The National Football Foundation waived its three-year waiting period for induction, allowing Osborne to be enshrined alongside the game's greatest coaches without delay.

Nebraska became only the second major college football program since the Associated Press began ranking teams in 1936 to earn three national titles in four seasons. Notre Dame won national titles in 1946, 1947 and 1949.

Peter and rush end Grant Wistrom, the Lombardi Award winner and two-time Big 12 Defensive Player-of-the-Year, were the heart and soul of Nebraska's 1997 national champions.

"Those two guys, among some others, ramrodded that football team," Osborne said. "They decided a year ago they were going to come back and get the thing done. Their leadership was invaluable."

Peter and Wistrom earned All-America honors, as did offensive guard Aaron Taylor, the first Cornhusker to be named an All-American at two positions. He played center in 1996. Taylor was voted the Outland Trophy winner, with Peter being one of two runners-up.

Frost and I-back Ahman Green were among other key players on offense. Frost became only the 10th player in major college history to rush for 1,000 yards and pass for 1,000 yards in the same season, finishing with 1,095 and 1,237, respectively. His 2,332 yards of total offense were one short of the Nebraska single-season record, set by Jerry Tagge in 1971.

Green rushed for 1,877 yards, which ranked second on the Cornhuskers' all-time single-season list, behind 1983 Heisman Trophy winner Mike Rozier's 2,148 yards.

Every Cornhusker, from freshman Matt Davison, whose touchdown catch of a deflected Frost pass on the final play of regulation against Missouri kept the title hopes alive, to scout team players such as senior Doug Seaman, contributed in varying degrees to NU's fifth national title.

The 1997 national championship team was "somewhere in between" the 1994 and 1995 national championship teams, according to Osborne. It was "probably a little more talented than '94, certainly not near as controversial as '95. That was nice," he said. "So it was just kind of a nice way to go."

"Great leadership on the part of the players, and I didn't have to do much."

He was being overly modest, of course. The record will attest to that.

Ahman Green rushed for an Orange Bowl record 206 yards, as Nebraska defeated Tennessee, 42-17, in the 1998 Orange Bowl. The victory gave Nebraska its third national title in the 1990s.

The University of Nebraska

The recently completed Esther L. Kauffman Academic Residential Center, located north of the Nebraska Union, provides a high-tech living and learning environment as home to the J.D. Edwards Honors Program in Computer Science and Management. The program prepares graduates to use computing foundations, information technology and business principles to meet the challenges of industry in the 21st century.

The University of Nebraska-Lincoln is the primary research and doctoral degree-granting institution in Nebraska. As Nebraska's land-grant university, it serves as the flagship institution of the University of Nebraska system.

Officially chartered on Feb. 15, 1869, the University of Nebraska grew quickly to become one of the nation's leading state universities. With a proud tradition of excellence in research and creative activity, the University of Nebraska was one of the pioneers in research and graduate studies, being the first university west of the Mississippi to form a graduate school and to offer the Ph.D. degree. In 1909 Nebraska became the 18th member of the Association of American Universities.

Today UNL ranks among the top 50 institutions awarding the most doctoral degrees. It is a major research university, recently ranked in the top 25 among public universities for total endowment assets and new gifts. It is home to top researchers in such areas as plant genomics, remote sensing technologies, molecular virology, bioinformatics, food processing and nanoscale technology.

Consistent with its role as the state's comprehensive institution, UNL offers 149 undergraduate majors and 116 graduate degree programs. With 22,000 students enrolled in classes at UNL, all of Nebraska's 93 counties are represented in the student body, along with students from all 50 states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico and 111 foreign countries.

A Comprehensive Education Program embodies the ideals of a liberal arts education. The program acquaints all undergraduates with the basic research tools and the global human context and introduces them to a wide variety of academic subject areas. It emphasizes strong written and oral communication skills and critical thinking. A co-curricular component encourages student leadership and involvement in campus activities and in the wider community.

The George W. Beadle Center for Genetics and Biomaterials Research was dedicated in 1995 and is one of the University's major facilities for science and technology. The center contains state-of-the-art laboratories devoted to research and development in biotechnology, biochemistry, biological materials and related fields. The center is named in honor of a Nobel Prize-winning geneticist and University alumnus.

The University reaches thousands of citizens across the state each year through outreach activities. The Cooperative Extension Service provides all Nebraskans with information and assistance in agriculture and natural resources, home economics, family living, 4-H and community resource development. Continuing Studies offers alternatives to formal on-campus education with programs, including Internet courses, summer reading courses, evening classes, independent study by correspondence, telecourses and study tours.

A number of specialized centers offer assistance to the state's citizens. For example, the Bureau of Business Research is a valuable resource for individuals and local governments. The Food Processing Center has helped hundreds of businesses with everything from product development to marketing, and the Technology Transfer Office expedites the movement of university-developed knowledge into real-world products and processes. The campus is home to the nationally renowned Sheldon Memorial Art Gallery and Sculpture Garden, the Christlieb Collection of Western Art and several other galleries. The Lied Center for Performing Arts draws big-name acts in contemporary entertainment, and the University of Nebraska State Museum boasts a world-class fossil collection.

Multi-Talented Shepard Retires After 53 Years

by David Wilson

Amid a surprise October snowstorm in 1989, Bill Shepard didn't think twice about clearing the field on his orange Kubota tractor — wearing his trademark red-and-white polka dot hat — at halftime of Nebraska's game with Kansas State.

Bill Shepard

Wildcat Head Coach Bill Snyder, on the other hand, was insulted by Shepard's work.

"The Kansas State coach was real upset because his chances of keeping a close game with Nebraska were lowered," said Shepard, who retired as Nebraska's grounds director in May of 2001. "I went to Tom Osborne, and he said, 'By all means, get the snow off the field.' The next year, they made a rule saying both coaches had to approve the field being cleared."

The Huskers went on to win the contest, 58-7. And though it was likely his most publicized event, it was just another day at the office for Shepard, who began his career at the University of Nebraska in 1948.

"He was a guy who was usually here earlier than any coach, and many times he left later in the evening than a lot of us," Nebraska Secondary Coach George Darlington said.

The university's first 50-year employee, Shepard transferred from working in an East Campus dairy barn to the athletic department in 1960. He became the grounds director in 1962.

Working with the coaches, Shepard managed to keep the Husker playing fields in shape while meeting the practicing needs of the coaches.

"I had a great rapport with the coaches," Shepard said. "They always seemed to know what they wanted and had a way of explaining it to me. Everything worked out pretty good."

Through the years, Shepard continually watched construction crews keep Nebraska's athletic facilities on top. The addition of Astroturf to Memorial Stadium in 1970, Shepard said, helped both the grounds crew and the coaches. The Nebraska football team won national titles in 1970 and 1971.

With grass, the football team was not able to practice in the stadium on game weeks because the surface couldn't handle the wear and tear. Turf, however, allowed the Huskers to practice in the stadium right up to the day before a game.

"The turf was a blessing for us," Shepard said.

Of course, not knowing exactly how the newly-installed turf would react to extreme conditions, Shepard was forced to learn in a hurry how to clear snow off the surface.

The first snow on the new turf came the night before a Friday freshman game. "Shep" left his house at 5:30 a.m. and hit the field with his tractor, watering the turf to melt the snow. His plan worked, and both the freshman game on Friday and the varsity game on Saturday were played.

The new FieldTurf, installed in Memorial Stadium prior to the 1999 season, presented new challenges for Shepard and his crew — but it was nothing they couldn't handle.

"The coaches love it and the players love it," Shepard said, "so it has to be a good thing."

Though his fields changed as the athletic department grew and sports were added, Shepard's attitude didn't change much. The program grew from 11 athletic teams when he started to 23 by the time he retired.

"Everything changed," Shepard said. "It seems like something happened every year. But nobody got to do what I did. I was pretty much my own boss — with a little guidance. I could come in as early as I wanted and leave when the work was done. It was just a great job to have."

While he was known as a hard working grounds director, many also knew Shepard as a good handball player and a great chef.

"Bill was a person with a lot of varying talents," Darlington said. "He might be the best chef in Lincoln. His lunches were famous throughout the athletic department. He would have gourmet meals at noon for his staff and different people."

Shepard's meals ranged from cooking up a lunch-time goulash for his summer employees to fixing a Thanksgiving feast for over 100 friends and co-workers in the comfort of his shop.

"He made stuffing, turkey, pie, mashed potatoes and gravy — all the Thanksgiving goodies you could imagine," Nebraska Sports Information Office Manager Vicki Cartwright said. "He would invite people from all over campus. It was a big deal to be invited."

And just another day at the office for Shepard.

"It was just a way to say thank you to all the people I worked with over the years."

The university's first 50-year employee, grounds director Bill Shepard spent 41 years in the Nebraska Athletic Department.

Dear Student-Athlete:

I know attending a camp can be very valuable to a young athlete, and the Nebraska Coaching Staff wants you to know that we will do everything possible to pass along personal instruction and individual techniques to every athlete to make your learning experience a truly enjoyable one.

Sincerely,

Frank Solich
Frank Solich

Session 1 - June 5-8

Session 2 - June 9-12

Session 3 - June 19-22

Session 4 - June 22-25

Cost per session: $210

Registration

Athletes who will be in the 10th, 11th or 12th grades next fall are eligible to attend the Big Red Football School. The fee is $210. An advance registration deposit of $110 must accompany each application. The balance is due at registration time. There will be no refund of fees after the athlete has been accepted in school. Housing is provided in one of the University's residence halls, where breakfast, lunch and dinner are included in the $210 fee.

Campers that live close to the University may stay with their parents if approved--an adjustment in fees will be made in this case. Attached is an application form which should be filled out and sent at once to: Big Red Football School, 217 South Stadium, P.O. Box 880125, Lincoln, NE 68588. Make checks payable to: Big Red Football School.

Sessions

During each session, Frank Solich and his staff will give personal instruction on individual techniques and fundamentals daily from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. and from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. Lectures will be given after lunch by Coach Solich (motivation) and Nebraska Strength Coach Boyd Epley (strength training). Evening sessions will be devoted to specialty work and team competition. During the camp you will also have the opportunity to lift weights under the supervision of Boyd Epley and his staff. Although all four sessions are individual camps, groups of players or teams are encouraged to attend.

NOTE: Each session is limited. Get your application in early.

We wish to apply for the 2002 Big Red Football School (Please indicate which session):

NACDA Executive Director

In the last couple of years, NACDA has celebrated its anniversary and the start of the new millennium. Now, as NACDA enters its 37th year as the professional and educational association for collegiate athletics administrators, it is time to continue the Association's evolution and growth.

In keeping with its role as a service-oriented organization, NACDA's expansion has included the administration of several other professional associations within the realm of the athletics department. These are the National Association of Collegiate Marketing Administrators (NACMA); National Association of Athletic Development Directors (NAADD); National Association of Athletics Compliance Coordinators (NAACC); National Collegiate Licensing Association (NCLA); Division I-AA Athletics Directors Association; Division II Athletics Directors Association; National Alliance of Two-Year College Athletic Administrators (NATYCAA); and the College Athletic Business Management Association (CABMA). This last group held its annual convention with NACDA for the first time this past summer and we are pleased to have them with us.

Taking advantage of available technologies, NACDA provides a comprehensive website, including all of its associations, electronic mailing lists, e-mail broadcast lists and a comprehensive membership database to better serve the membership.

The NACDA Foundation continues to offer postgraduate scholarships through the Sears Directors' Cup, John McLendon Memorial Minority and NACDA Foundation Football programs. More than $9.6 million in postgraduate scholarships has been awarded to worthy students since 1983. Additionally, since 1985, more than 100 students have started their career in athletics administration through internships in the national office.

NACDA's programs are all encompassing. Among the programs NACDA sponsors are the Sears Directors' Cup competitions, First Mentors, the Kickoff and Pigskin Classics, the bi-monthly publication Athletics Administration and all of the Association's awards programs, including the NACDA/Continental Airlines AD of the Year Awards.

NACDA's Annual Convention has become the gathering spot for athletics administrators, bringing together professionals from all levels of intercollegiate athletics. The 2002 NACDA Convention, and the affiliate workshops and conventions, will be held at the Wyndham Anatole Hotel in Dallas, Texas. NACDA's Convention runs from June 16-19.

We look forward to another outstanding year with the NACDA membership.

NACDA is proud to launch the 2001-02 year with today's Pigskin Classic. We offer our best wishes to the University of Nebraska and Texas Christian University for a successful season and an exciting Pigskin Classic XII.

The Pigskin Classic

The plans for the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA) to sponsor a second preseason football game began in 1985 and involved former Freedom Bowl Executive Director Tom Starr and Jack Lindquist, then executive vice president of creative marketing concepts for Walt Disney Attractions. However, plans for the game did not proceed until 1988 when Charlie McClendon, then executive director of the American Football Coaches Association (AFCA), began discussing the need for funding of the AFCA's then-existing retirement fund for assistant coaches, the American Football Coaches Retirement Trust (AFCRT).

NACDA sponsored the legislation at the NCAA convention in 1989 and the proposal passed, leading the way for the second preseason game. It is an allowable 12th game for the participating teams.

From 1990 to 1994, the Pigskin Classic was sponsored by the Walt Disney Company. It was known as the Disneyland Pigskin Classic and was played in Anaheim Stadium.

In 1994, upon the conclusion of the contract with Disney, NACDA reached an agreement with the University of Michigan to serve as the host of the 1995 Classic, marking the first time the Classic would be played at a college site. With this format, the site would change yearly, and Brigham Young University played host to the second game at a collegiate site.

Since then, Northwestern has hosted the game at Soldier Field, Southern California played at the L.A. Coliseum and Penn State served as host at Beaver Stadium. Last year, Florida State was the host at Alltel Stadium in Jacksonville, Fla.

Proceeds from the Pigskin Classic go to the AFCA, NACDA and its foundation and the participating institutions. As a result of the game and the NACDA-sponsored Kickoff Classic, close to $500,000 in postgraduate scholarships are awarded annually. This includes a $5,000 postgraduate scholarship being awarded one student-athlete from each of the four institutions participating in the preseason games. Since 1983, the NACDA Foundation has provided more than $9.6 million in postgraduate scholarships.

The NACDA Foundation provides educational assistance to NACDA members and to student-athletes. The Foundation annually sponsors workshops and clinics to continue in the educational efforts of its member athletics directors, assistants and associates. This includes workshops for the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA), the National Athletic Trainers Association (NATA), facilities and fund raising workshops and seminars on issues of interest to athletics directors.

The Foundation also sponsors an internship program for aspiring athletics administrators. Currently more than 100 students from more than 50 NACDA member institutions have benefited from this program, spending from six to nine months working at NACDA's national office.

Nebraska is playing in its fifth preseason game all-time and its first Pigskin Classic.

Husker Choices volunteers Amber Holmquist, Erin Pauley, Pat Moore, Melissa Hilty, and Eric Crouch

Husker Choices is a collaboration between the NU Athletic Department and the University Health Center that uses the influence of student athletes and other student leaders on campus to reduce alcohol use and related problems among students and student athletes via effective educational presentations, personalized feedback, and informational campaigns.

Funded by a three-year grant from the NCAA, Husker Choices will provide presentations to over 3000 students through 2004 about the dangers and problems associated with "high-risk" drinking. Student athletes will receive a personalized "Check-Up To Go" which provides individualized feedback on alcohol issues.

The program will also offer public information campaigns to correct the misperception, especially among new students, that most NU students drink heavily, letting the campus know that 71% of NU students have four or fewer drinks when they party, if they drink at all.

A team of athletes from the Student Athlete Advisory Board will join the University Health Center's Project CARE (Creating an Alcohol Responsible Environment) students in providing educational campaigns to four target groups: fraternities, sororities, students living in residence halls, and athletic teams. Athletes and student peer educators involved in the project will receive extensive training to help build knowledge and skills in presenting information.

For more information, Contact the University Health Center at 472-7440.

Hire a Husker Program

The student-athletes at the University of Nebraska know what being part of success is all about. They understand that the commitment they make each year to their coaches and teammates will serve them well in their "quest to be the best" on the field of competition.

During the summer, players make tremendous gains physically and the "team chemistry" starts to come together. In order to work out in Lincoln each summer, most players need some help financially. Huskers also realize that everything they do as student-athletes in preparation of winning championships will transfer with them throughout life into a successful employment opportunity and professional career.

When you hire a Husker, you are employing young adults who have qualities and strengths that will complement your business and associate needs. Husker student-athletes are self-motivated, disciplined and responsible. As they work to master their sport skills for competition, they are also gaining valuable experience in time management and organizational skills. A student-athlete from the University of Nebraska understands the demands of a full day, which typically includes attending classes, practice, strength and conditioning workouts, team meetings and studying. Huskers are prepared to accept the challenges of your employment opportunity. They are willing to learn and capable of doing the job you request.

Why is the Program Important?

Because of NCAA limitations on the number of athletic scholarships that institutions are allowed to award each year, not every student-athlete who is a member of the football team is receiving a scholarship. Many of our athletes are walk-on team members who must endure the expenses of attending the university on their own. These athletes must work during the summer vacation period as well as during the academic year to offset registration fees and cost of living expenses. These non-scholarship athletes play an integral part in the success of our football program and without employment, would not be able to attend the university or participate on the football team. An employment opportunity for these young men simply makes their dreams of becoming a Husker come true.

A football student-athlete who is receiving an athletic scholarship has all of his academic-related expenses provided. These expenses include tuition, room and board and books and fees. However, all other personal expenses, such as return home travel, clothing needs, medical or dental services, telephone access, etc., are the responsibility of the student-athlete. The student-athletes who receive athletic scholarships also benefit greatly from summer and academic-year employment. Employers who provide job opportunities for any of our football athletes play a very important role in the support system for our student-athletes.

Who to Contact About the Student-Athlete Employment Program

If you are interested in employing a Husker football player during the summer vacation period, you should contact the Nebraska Football Office at (402) 472-3116. Coaches Turner Gill and Dan Young, along with football secretary Joni Duff, will coordinate the placement of football athletes for your employment needs.

During the academic year, contact should be made with Theresa Becker, Assistant Compliance Director for the Athletic Department. The compliance office is located at 300 West Stadium. Proper forms and documentation regarding the employment of a student-athlete must be completed before beginning of employment as well as at the conclusion of the employment appointment. Feel free to call (402) 472-7009 with questions or concerns.

For more information regarding NCAA rules on student-athlete employment, please contact the University of Nebraska Compliance Office at (402) 472-2042.

2001 Husker Employment Sponsors

Although the following listing may not adequately thank all of the individuals and businesses who have helped out the Husker work program over the years, the NU athletic department thanks these businesses for their support by allowing Husker student-athletes to gain valuable on-the-job experience. If your name or business was inadvertently omitted, we apologize. Thank you for your continued support of this program.

New Hitting Style Prompted Baseball's Home Run Barrage, Study Finds

By Tom Simons, Public Relations

It's not the "juiced ball," it's not cozy ballparks and it's not expansion that caused the explosion of offense in Major League Baseball in the 1990s.

Rather, the root causes are a new, free-swinging hitting style, combined with a new relationship between hitters and pitchers, lighter bats and stronger players, two University of Nebraska-Lincoln historians report in a soon-to-be published paper, "Baseball's Great Hitting Barrage of the 1990s."

Ben Rader and Ken Winkle, like millions of other baseball fans, watched in fascination as baseball offenses exploded. The explosion began in 1993, when major-league batting averages jumped 10 points and runs per game increased from 8.6 to 9.2 compared to 1992, while five players hit 40 or more home runs in a season for the first time since 1969.

And that was just the beginning. In the first six seasons of the three-divisional era (1994-99), the major leagues' composite batting average was .281, up from .257 in the two-divisional era (1969-93), while runs per 100 at bats increased from 12.4 to 14.3. Home runs were at the center of the barrage, with home runs per 100 at bats increasing by more than one-third, from 2.3 in the two-divisional era to 3.1 in the three-divisional era.

Rader and Winkle started looking for the underlying causes of the revolution when Rader began work on a 1990s chapter for a revised version of his acclaimed 1992 book, "Baseball: A History of America's Game." As their research progressed, one factor came to stand out.

"Across the board, the biggest answer we found was the changing strike zone and the relationship of batters to pitchers," Rader said. "This is hard to measure statistically, but the area of the strike zone has moved away from the batters, away from the inside of the plate to the outer side of the plate. And the high strike, essentially a pitch above the belt, has been taken away.

"Also, pitchers don't have as much freedom to throw inside as they used to. There seems to be a new convention and the umpires enforce this convention. You can't just throw the old 'brush-back' pitch, where a Bob Gibson wouldn't let a hitter dig in. Some pitchers the last couple of years have tried to reclaim it, but when Pedro Ramirez of the Boston Red Sox started throwing inside and high, Frank Robinson (vice president for discipline for Major League Baseball) suspended him."

Rader and Winkle concluded that lighter bats and stronger players were also probable contributing factors. The average weight of a major-league bat dropped from 33 ounces in 1991 to 31 ounces in 1996, they reported, allowing hitters to wait longer on pitches and produce greater bat speed when they swing. While the average height and weight of major-league players was virtually identical in 1990 and 1998, Rader and Winkle speculated that today's players are indeed stronger thanks to year-round training regimens, more careful attention to diet and (possibly) to the alleged use of illegal steroids. But they weren't able to prove the stronger-player theory.

"I contacted the strength coaches at all of these places and they claim they don't have any systematic data on whether players are getting stronger or not," Rader said. "Maybe they just don't want the competition to know how strong their players are, but we couldn't get any data."

"Across the board, the biggest answer we found was the changing strike zone and the relationship of batters to pitchers," Rader said.

In rejecting the popular juiced-ball theory, the Nebraska historians cited scientific studies of baseballs, an inspection by major league executives and newspaper reporters of the Rawlings manufacturing and testing facilities, and the improbability that all of the thousands of individuals involved in manufacturing baseballs would keep quiet about a conspiracy to change the ball.

The cozy ballpark theory was undermined when they found that the dimensions of major league ballparks remained virtually unchanged from 1990 to 1998, and they disposed of the diluted-pitching theory when they found no correlation between expansion and increased offensive output.

Major League Baseball, ostensibly in an effort to speed up the game, tried to retrain its umpires to call the rule-book strike zone this spring, with predictable howls from hitters. Whether the "new" strike zone will bring back some offensive-defensive balance remains to be seen.

"It will be fascinating to see what kind of results they'll have," Rader said.

Heart Healthy Omega Eggs Developed Through NU Research

By Vicki Miller,
IANR News and Publishing

Omega Eggs, produced using a patented University of Nebraska management system, are available at Hy-Vee supermarkets in seven states under a licensing agreement.

Omega Eggs are high in beneficial Omega 3 fatty acids and contain less saturated fat than conventional eggs. These eggs are produced by hens fed a patented diet that includes flax seed, a rich source of Omega 3 fatty acids. NU Poultry Scientist Sheila Scheideler developed the complete management program to economically produce eggs high in Omega 3 fatty acids. The university patented the system and holds the trademark on Omega Eggs.

"The more I read about Omega 3s, the more excited I became about the potential for producing eggs rich in these beneficial fatty acids," Scheideler explained.

Omega Eggs are available in the refrigerated sections of more than 200 Hy-Vee stores in Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska and South Dakota through a licensing agreement between the university and Perishable Distributors of Iowa (PDI), a Hy-Vee subsidiary and refrigerated section supplier. An Iowa egg producer produces Omega Eggs for PDI using NU's patented management system.

Omega Eggs look, taste and cook like regular white eggs, Scheideler said. It's what's inside that's different. They contain 350 milligrams of Omega 3 fatty acids compared with 60 milligrams in regular eggs. Thanks to the hens' Omega 3-rich rations, these eggs also have 180 milligrams of cholesterol compared with about 215 milligrams in regular eggs and a third less saturated fat, Scheideler said.

Omega 3s are known to reduce several heart disease risk factors yet many Americans don't eat diets rich in these beneficial fatty acids. Omega 3 fatty acids increase the ratio of good (HDL) to bad (LDL) cholesterol in blood and decrease occurrence of blood clots and arrhythmias, research indicates.

Scheideler said that, "two Omega Eggs provide the same amount of Omega 3 fatty acids as a 3-ounce serving of salmon," a major source of Omega 3s.

A study by NU Nutrition Scientist Nancy Lewis found that people with high cholesterol levels who ate two Omega Eggs a day, six days a week, decreased their serum triglyceride levels by 14 percent and their cholesterol levels didn't increase. High triglyceride levels are a heart disease risk factor.

For Scheideler, commercialization has been a long time coming.

"For five years, I've had countless calls from people in Nebraska and other states asking where they can get these eggs. I can finally tell them that they're available at their local supermarket," she said. Stories about Scheideler's research generated consumer interest over the years, but the eggs were only available at the university's dairy store, where they will continue to be sold in limited quantities.

"We're very excited about this license because it will get these eggs out to a multi-state area," she said. "This is an example of NU Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources research being made available to consumers. Our agricultural research doesn't just benefit farmers. Consumers are the ultimate beneficiaries."

She began researching how to economically produce eggs rich in Omega 3 fatty acids after North Dakota flax producers contacted her about the potential for using flax in poultry feed.

"The more I read about Omega 3s, the more excited I became about the potential for producing eggs rich in these beneficial fatty acids," she explained. Earlier studies showed adjusting hens' diets could boost eggs' Omega 3 content, but Scheideler was the first in the United States to develop an economical, complete system for producing Omega Eggs.

Scheideler's management system covers every step of Omega Egg production, from the hens' genetics and feed preparation for the entire 60-week production cycle, to management and quality control. She works with egg production site managers to make sure the patent is being correctly implemented.

"We've developed a sound program from start to finish that provides good nutrition for the chickens, produces a consistent nutritional product and addresses food safety issues," she explained.

The university continues to seek licensing agreements that would make Omega Eggs produced with the NU management program available in parts of Nebraska and in other states not served by Hy-Vee.

This research was conducted through the university's Agricultural Research Division and partly funded by the North Dakota Oil Seed Council and the U. S. Flax Institute.
